We Are All Slave Owners

A few days ago I stood, thrilled anew with the heritage that is every American's, and looked at the old carriage in which Andrew Jackson, seventh President of the United States, made his many trips between his home 15 miles outside Nashville, and the Capitol at Washington.

The journey required an average of 30 days.

At the door of the old kitchen one sees the huge fireplace where the cooking was done; the big circular churn; hand-turned; the box for wood which had to be chopped and carried; the cranes for hanging the heavy, iron pots; the buckets for water brought from the well. . . .

In the rooms were fireplaces, and the portable "plumbing" of that time. The nation was young and the work week, for what small industry we had, was 70 hours per week.

Servants

Andrew Jackson had but few slaves and they practically worshipped him. But, they did the work. Today, we all have slaves. They are at our beck and call with the pressing of a button. Gas, electricity, and water toil for us. The housewife in a tiny apartment has more convenience, more slaves, more ease of transportation, more luxury and ease of life than did the seventh President of the United States.

Note, now, how toil necessary to provide essential items of life has eased:

* Excerpt from "Capitalism in America," by Frederick Martin Stern. (Reinhart & Co., Inc.)

Now, let us turn to another aspect of the picture as our country's population grows and crowds more and more into the cities—and as the big problems of production in agriculture and industry increase.

A few short months ago America's embattled cattlemen were denouncing the Democratic administration's price supports and controls.

"Let us stand on our own feet," they said, "and we'll take care of ourselves. Let's have an end to socialistic practices."

But, once the administration change was made, nature went on her inexorable way.

Days followed days with no rain. The range began to turn brown. The grass dried. Waterholes and wells petered out.

Socialistic?

Pretty soon the big Texas hats were on the tables in the White House waiting rooms and inside, the big Texans, almost arrogantly, were asking for help.

They deserved it, and got it.

But, it is just as socialistic now as before.

Capitalism in America has succeeded—while in other nations it has been wiped out or subjected to great restraints—because it voluntarily has assumed a necessary social obligation—not merely to the Texas cattlemen, but also in providing "socialistic" aid: housing, schooling, cotton, tobacco, soil conservation, health needy, old-age, crippled children and in many other fields.

And, of course, if you come right down to it, all this is "socialism."

All of us, even vegetarians, are paying to assist the Texas cattlemen.

And we all pay to keep up crop prices and for public health, education, etc.

In the American nations south of us, we see what happens to the capitalist system which hugs all its profits to its breast and lets poverty, misery and want go their devastating way.

Our great country and its magnificent system survive and flourish because we have—not socialism — but a flexible capitalistic economy with a social conscience. Let us not allow fools to turn it into what the GOP "old guard" wants.

LIBERTY SHERIFF LEAVES ATLANTA
Paul Sikes and Wife Try To Elude Photographer

Ill, Sikes Pleads; Hearing Delayed

By M. L. ST. JOHN

Liberty County Sheriff Paul Sikes tried to avoid newsmen as he left Atlanta yesterday after winning a delay in his ouster hearing because of reported heart attacks.

Gov. Talmadge rescheduled the hearing Oct. 28 at 9 a.m.

R. V. Sikes, the sheriff's son, rejected requests of the press to interview and photograph the sheriff, who had been reported confined to his bed in the Dinkler-Plaza Hotel. Sikes' lawyers, House Speaker pro tem George L. Smith II of Swainsboro and Shelby Myrick Sr. of Savannah, likewise, said the sheriff was too ill to be disturbed.

The Georgia State Patrol has been ordered to give protection to Liberty County Grand Jurors who claim attempts have been made to intimidate them. Story on Page 15.

About noon yesterday, Sikes walked from the hotel to a parking lot a block away, where he got into a blue Cadillac automobile. He had evaded a half-dozen reporters and photographers waiting in the lobby. But a photographer stationed near the parking lot snapped his picture despite efforts of friends to shield him.

The hearing was postponed on testimony of Dr. Edward K. Russell of Atlanta that Sikes was too

Slightly Warmer Afternoons Due

Slightly warmer afternoons will follow cool, fair mornings in north Georgia today and tomorrow, according to the forecast.

The Atlanta Weather Bureau said the mercury will range from a low of 45 to a high of 76 today and from 48 to 76 tomorrow.

The high reading in Atlanta yesterday was 69 and the low was 45.

30 mph Airplane Tested in Singapore

SINGAPORE, Oct. 7—(AP)—While Britain and the United States are trying to outpace each other for the world's airspeed record, the Royal Air Force tested the world's slowest airplane here today—the Prestwick Pioneer which can fly slower than 30 m.p.h.

The plane is designed for use on short landing strips and has a wing span of 50 feet. It is capable of climbing at 700 feet a minute with a top speed of 130 m.p.h.

Ike Clamps Lid on Talk Of H-Peril

Contradictions Bring Screening

By JAMES RESTON
New York Times News Service
Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—President Eisenhower has decided to put a stop to loose official talk about the Soviet Union and the hydrogen bomb.

Annoyed by what one leader called "atomic blabbermouths" within the governmental family, the President has passed the word that he wants all official statements on this subject to conform to the decisions of the National Security Council or to be cleared at the White House.

"WON'T HAPPEN AGAIN"

The White House would not say how the President had served notice on his colleagues, but one aide, commenting on the recent series of contradictory statements on the Soviet Union's hydrogen bomb potential, observed:

"It won't happen again. Let's let it go at that."

Within the last few days, these conflicting statements have been made by various top administration officials:

The Soviet Union has a hydrogen bomb—Secretary of Defense Wilson.

The Soviet Union has not got a hydrogen bomb—all it has is a "thermonuclear device"—Val Peterson, civil defense administrator.

FLEMMING STATEMENT

"Soviet Russia is capable of delivering the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States"—Arthur S. Flemming, head of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

It will be three years—"maybe more"—before the Russians have enough hydrogen bombs and the planes to deliver them in an atomic war against the United States—Secretary Wilson.

Wilson's statements, made in a press conference at the Pentagon yesterday, were in keeping with the estimates of the National Security Council. It is understood, however, that the President felt that some of the statements made by Flemming and Peterson were unduly alarming and jeopardized the President's plans to try to put the whole question of the atomic menace before the public in a carefully balanced way.

IKE PLANS REPORT

The President said in his news conference last week that he intended to try to make a report to the people on all aspects of this question—what the menace is and what can be done to meet it in terms of continental defense and in terms of trying to negotiate a just peace.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) observed tonight that "the lack of coordination among high agencies and officials of the administration is leading to public confusion that may be disastrous." He called on the President to make a plain statement of the facts about the hydrogen bomb menace.

This the President plans to do. He has rejected the counsel of some scientists to discuss the problem in terms of how many atomic weapons the United States has and how many the Russians have, but it is understood that he plans to discuss the threat and the diplomatic and military means of dealing with it..

Greenlease Boy Is Slain; Kidnapers Seized With Half $600,000 Ransom

FACES OF PERSONS HELD IN GREENLEASE KIDNAP-MURDER
Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady and Carl Austin Hall Shown After Their Arrest

All-Out Hunt Pressed for Accomplice

By CHARLES NETHAWAY

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 7 (AP)—The Bobby Greenlease kidnap case ended today in tragedy with discovery of the child's lime-covered body in a shallow grave in St. Joseph, Mo. His parents had delivered $600,000 ransom.

Two of his abductors, caught because they and a third fought after days of wild drinking, were under arrest in St. Louis.

The two seized are Carl Austin Hall, 37, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heatly, 41, the "red-haired, plump woman" who abducted 6-year-old Bobby from his school a week ago yesterday.

The kidnapers killed Bobby almost immediately. They struck him in the mouth, shot him fatally in the back of the head, and then buried him and planted flowers in the fresh earth of the grave behind their hideout.

Then, by telephone and letter, they pressed their demands on the parents, who swiftly agreed and paid $600,000 in cash—by far the greatest kidnap ransom in American history.

There was no consoling the grief-stricken parents, though two doctors tried.

KEPT FAITH

Robert C. Greenlease, 71-year-old millionaire automobile distributor, and his 45-year-old wife, Virginia, had kept their faith. They prayed and prayed. Money was no object, Greenlease said over and over.

But money was of no avail. The kidnapers to whom it was tossed in a satchel at a bridge "between Kansas City and St. Louis" had never intended to return Bobby.

Hall, an ex-convict who said he had planned the kidnap for two years, named another accomplice with a long criminal record—37-year-old Thomas John Marsh.

Hall and Mrs. Heady were arraigned tonight on federal charges of extortion and held in $100,000 bail apiece. Later tonight, the state of Missouri filed first degree murder charges in St. Joseph against Hall, Mrs. Heady and Marsh.

HUNT PRESSED

Marsh was the object of a nationwide manhunt tonight. Hall charged that it was actually Marsh who shot the boy although the FBI earlier said he had confessed he did it himself.

Hall, the woman and Marsh, if he is caught, face a death sentence under the Missouri kidnap law.

Bobby's fate closely resembled that of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., 20-month-old son of the famed flier, who was kidnaped March 1, 1932. Ransom also was paid in that case, but

STUDENTS WELL GUARDED

Couldn't Happen Here, School Officials Agree

By MARJORY SMITH

Possibility of a school child in the Greater Atlanta area being released from a school into the hands of a stranger—as happened in the case of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, slain by Missouri kidnapers—is "extremely remote," school officials agreed here yesterday.

Spokesmen for city and Fulton and DeKalb County public schools said that teachers and principals in this area stress "their responsibility toward the children in their care."

A person who calls for a child during school hours "must present proper credentials and must convince a vigilant principal that he has the right to take the child away," Paul D. West, Fulton County superintendent of schools, pointed out.

Miss Ira Jarrell, superintendent of Atlanta schools, said the policy here is so strict that "you could hardly take a child away unless his principal went with him."

Miss Jarrell disclosed that years ago when she was principal of Sylvan Hills School here, she actually accompanied a father from the school in a taxi with his child. She explained that the grandmother of the child in question had telephoned her that the father was separated from his wife and that it was "dangerous" to allow him to take the child.

The grandmother asked Miss Jarrell to hold the father until police arrived. When she was unable to do so, Miss Jarrell recalled, she insisted on getting into a taxi with the departing father and child and rode with them until police stopped their taxi.

Jim Cherry, superintendent of DeKalb County schools, said similar strict policies exist in DeKalb schools.

"Our principals know most of the parents of our schoolchildren," Cherry said. "In the rare cases where this is not so, any person who came to a school seeking to take a child away would be under the closest scrutiny. Unless he could satisfy the principal that he had the proper authority, he would be refused and the matter would be thoroughly investigated."

Mom Begged Phone Pledge

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7—(AP)—Twice in the week of negotiation with the kidnapers of Bobby Greenlease the mother went to the phone to plead for assurances her boy was alive.

Another time the $600,000 ransom was tossed out of the car by representatives of the family but they had to go back and pick it up because the kidnapers said they couldn't find it.

Robert Ledterman, business associate of the multimillionaire Robert C. Greenlease Sr., described

Tattoos Brand Convict Called Triggerman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (INS)—Thomas John Marsh, a chronic drunk and two-time sex offender whose body is heavily tattoed with the emblems of death, was the object of a remorseless FBI manhunt today for his part in the brutal kidnap-murder of Bobby Greenlease.

The G-men want him behind bars for the 17th—and final—time in his crime-checkered life. One of the partners in the crime charges it was the 37-year-old Marsh who shot 6-year-old Bobby to death.

The accusing finger was pointed at Marsh by Carl Austin Hall, a 37-year-old ex-convict.

Hall earlier told the FBI that he himself was the slayer. Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, who has been in trouble with the law on and off for 18 years, has also been nabbed in the case.

Marsh served almost three years of a five-year sentence in the Oklahoma State Penitentiary on a morals charge involving a 9-year-old boy. He was released May 3, 1942.

Marsh was arrested on March 4, 1950, in St. Louis, accused of molesting a child. He served a little more than a year before the governor of Missouri commuted his sentence.

Youth Bound Over on 20 Counts Of Arson in 5-Day Firebug Spree

By BILL DIEHL

A 17-year-old youth accused of blazing a five-day firebug trail through downtown Atlanta was bound over to Fulton Superior Court without bond yesterday on 20 counts of arson.

Raymond J. Engrisch, Rte. 1, College Park, was transferred from city prison to Fulton Tower and records of the case were turned over to Fulton Sol. Gen. Paul Webb for grand jury investigation.

Penalty for conviction of arson is two to 20 years. If indicted and found guilty on all charges, Engrisch could face a maximum sentence of 400 years.

Municipal Court Judge Luke Arnold in reviewing the arson laws during the hearing also cited a law which provides the death sentence for setting a railroad bridge fire. Several of the fires started Tuesday were in railroad cars near and under the downtown viaduct, but fire inspectors pointed out the fires did not spread to the bridges.

FACES ARSON CHARGES
Raymond J. Engrisch

Engrisch, a telegraph messenger, told Judge Arnold he started 20 fires in buildings and railroad cars after he accidentally set a waste paper basket afire in the First National Bank last week. He climaxed the fire spree by setting eight fires in 10 hours Tuesday, he admitted.

"I don't know why I did it," Engrisch said. "I didn't mean to hurt anyone. I always started the fires near a firebox so I could call the engines."

The youth has no previous record, according to authorities, but his mother said he had had truancy troubles with juvenile authorities. He quit school when he was 16, she said, and has held several jobs since then.

He was arrested by Lt. R. L. Parker and Lt. J. S. Irwin, Atlanta fire inspectors who saw him near the scene of a railroad car fire at Techwood Dr. and Marietta St. Tuesday.

India Claims U.S. Pledges To Warn Rhee on Captives

New Delhi Issues Soft Threat To Quit If ROKs Interfere

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—India's ambassador asked for, and said he received, assurance today that the United States will try to prevent South Korean interference with Indian troops guarding prisoners of war.

South Korean government spokesmen, aroused by the killing of three prisoners while attempting to escape, threatened last week to use armed force against the 6,000 Indian troops guarding the prisoners in neutral zone camps. The prisoners are anti-Communist U. N. captives who have refused to return to their homes in North Korea and China.

ASKS WARNING

Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta asked the United States to warn the South Korean government against taking any action "which would prejudice the Korean armistice." He said Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson promised U.S. cooperation to this end.

Mehta said he delivered to Robertson a message from Prime Minister Nehru expressing India's concern about the situation. He added India trusts "that the United Nations Command will take all appropriate steps to see that the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission (which India heads) can carry on effectively."

Mehta said his appeal contained no threat of withdrawal of Indian troops but "We are naturally concerned at the threats by the South Korean government."

ONLY SO LONG

In New Delhi, the Indian Foreign Office said Indian troops would continue to guard the prisoners only so long as pledges against interference were honored.

The concern covers both the danger of a South Korean attack on the Indian troops and the danger of a mass POW breakout, which Mehta said would break down the armistice. Asked what assurances he had received from Robertson, the Indian envoy replied Robertson told him "that the United States government was also concerned and equally anxious to see that armistice provisions are observed and that the work of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission is carried on unhampered."

"WILL CHECK RHEE"

A U. S. warning to President Syngman Rhee "will check Dr. Rhee, we think," Mehta said.

Robertson apparently made clear to Mehta at the same time that the United States is not too happy about some of the rules for handling the POWs which have been made by the commission under India's chairmanship. But Robertson, Mehta said, sent no message to the Indian government on this point.

"I think," Mehta said, "that the United States believes that Indian troops are behaving with great forbearance, tact, and efficiency in a very difficult situation. My impression is that the United States is not prejudiced against India or the commission."

Cashier of Bank Robbed 3 Times In 14 Years Overpowers Gunman

ENVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 7—(AP)—A cashier whose bank has been held up three times in 14 years grabbed a holdup man today and disarmed him, the sheriff's office reported.

The cashier, 48-year-old James H. Frazier, leaped on the back of the gunman after he walked into the Bank of Enville and ordered Frazier's wife, an assistant cashier, to put all the bank's money into a paper sack.

The two men struggled to the front door then rolled down the steps of the bank into the street. There Frazier overpowered and disarmed the man just as Town Marshal Luther Emerson arrived.

Deputy Sheriff R. T. Condor said the man taken into custody identified himself as Milburn Wetherington, 35, of Lexington, Tenn.

He said another man, W. N. Middleton, about 55, of Reagan, Tenn., also was taken into custody as he sat in an automobile across the street from the bank.

LONG-DISTANCE CALL
Jinx Falkenburg

Phoner From 'Outer Space' Jars Saucer Radio Audience

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—(UP)—A high, thin voice professing to be from "outer space" interrupted a local radio show today with a telephone call warning earthmen to stop talking about flying saucers "or your planet will be annihilated."

That was the start of a king-size "whodunit" mystery.

The call came into the NBC studios in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel during the breakfast show of Tex McCrary and his wife, Jinx Falkenburg. At the time they were interviewing former Marine Maj. Donald E. Keyhoe about his new book, "Flying Saucers From Outer Space."

The telephone company was sure the call had not come from outer space, because it was made on a dial phone and couldn't be traced.

WHY OR FROM WHERE?

NBC officials said they didn't know who called, why or from where. And McCrary, stunned by the call, told his listeners he didn't know anything about it yet but hoped to be able to explain the whole thing later.

Bob Klew, NBC producer who took the call from the hotel switchboard, said he listened to the caller for about five minutes before turning the phone over to McCrary. As he talked McCrary held a hand microphone near the telephone, the caller's voice whined out over the air.

"TOO HIDEOUS"

"This is a voice from outer space. I warn you earthmen to stop talking about flying saucers, about bombs and preparations for war, for unless you learn to live in peace your planet will be annihilated.

"I know this because I am in a position to see and you are not. I am reaching you with difficulty. You cannot see me and you could not bear the sight if you did. It would be too hideous."

Telephone calls from startled listeners began jamming the hotel switchboard. NBC officials also reported a flood of calls, "some of them nearly hysterical."

McCrary immediately denied that he and his wife were in any way responsible. He said he had not intended the voice to be picked up by the microphone. Keyhoe also said he had no connection with the call and his publishers, Henry Holt & Co., said they would "never consider such a stunt." NBC officials disclaimed all responsibility.

The caller said first he was calling from a space ship over Los Angeles. Later, he said he was "now" over Salt Lake City.

Avalanche Buries Bus, 6 Aboard

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 7 (AP)—A mile-wide avalanche of earth and rock crumbled off a cliffside above Oslo Fjord today, burying a passenger bus on a highway and destroying a railroad bed just ahead of a commuter train.

Police said six persons were presumed dead, although they feared other persons might have been trapped in the gigantic mass of mud and rock. Four bodies were recovered from the buried bus when police hacked open its roof. Nine persons were injured, seven of them hospitalized.

The engineer of the commuter train speeding toward the crumbling cliff saw signal lights flickering and braked to a stop just short of disaster. The 100 passengers could see the tracks sagging for 350 yards ahead over empty air.

One hundred troops of the Royal Norwegian Guard and 60 rescue workers from the Norwegian Police School dug in the glare of searchlights as darkness fell, seeking any more bicyclists, motorists, or pedestrians who might have been swallowed by the slide.

At least seven automobiles and four trucks were swept down the mountainside and crunched between rolling rocks as the whole area sagged like molten plastic and then ripped loose with a great roar.

Cutting off the railway and highway severed connections between Oslo and Sweden. The earth slipped as much as 100 feet on the mountain 1,000 feet above Oslo Fjord and cut the Oslo-Gothenburg Railway.

Cut Payrolls but Protect Careerists, Ike Orders

By JAY WALZ
New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The Civil Service Commission sent out word today to heads of government agencies that payroll economies must continue, but that the rights of career employes to their jobs must be protected.

Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said in a letter to department and agency heads that it is the policy of the Eisenhower administration to make further reductions in personnel at the expense of workers holding indefinite appointments.

There were 700,000 of these, as of last June 30, he said, compared with about 1,400,000 employes in competitive positions holding regular Civil Service appointments.

This "cushion" of indefinite employes should take care of future reductions by and large, Young said.

Young, who said he had written the letter at the direction of President Eisenhower, set down the reduction-in-force policy as follows:

1. "No employee with civil service status shall be separated from his agency so long as there is a position, in the commuting areas within that agency, for which he is qualified that is filled by a person with an indefinite appointment."

2. "An employee with civil service status separated by his agency may register with the Civil Service Commission for placement in another agency" and the commission will refer the employe to any agency having vacancies filled by persons with indefinite appointments.

"I am sure you will agree this is a reasonable and fair policy for any employer to follow in protecting his regular employes against the loss of jobs and income," Young wrote.

Premier Rips Guiana Call For Tommies

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Oct. 7—(AP)—Leftist Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan charged in the House of Assembly today that the governor of this British colony called for troop-laden warships as a show of force here without consulting his elected ministers.

"The responsibility for whatever may happen is entirely that of the governor and those who have advised him," declared Jagan, fiery leader of the leftwing People's Progressive Party (PPP).

His party, holding 18 of the House's 24 seats, is demanding greater self-government for British Guiana. British authorities charge the PPP with "Communist intrigue" and an attempt to set up a Communist-run state.

British warships are steaming here to back up the governor, Sir Alfred Savage, in dealing with the PPP headed by Jagan and his U.S.-born wife.

Jagan was blocked by the speaker of the house, Sir Eustace Woolford, in attempting to introduce a motion calling for the withdrawal of the warships because they were likely "to precipitate incidents and endanger peace."

HANCOCK, LAURENS WINNERS

4-H Leaders' Prizes Awarded by McGill

By JACK GILCHRIST
Constitution Farm Editor

Jean Cheely of Hancock County and Steve Mercer of Laurens were named state winners in The Atlanta Constitution sponsored junior leadership program last night as the 11th annual state 4-H Congress reached the midway mark.

Miss Cheely and Mercer were awarded trophies and pins and 10 district winners were awarded pins by Constitution Editor Ralph McGill at the annual Atlanta Journal-Atlanta Constitution banquet held at the Biltmore Hotel.

WINNING CLUB

The Willing Workers Community 4-H Club of Tift County was named state winner in The Atlanta Journal-sponsored community improvement program. Cash awards to the state, district and county winners were made by Journal Editor Wright Bryan.

Miss Cheely went to the National Congress in Chicago last year and this year served as district girls' vice president.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Cheely.

Mercer, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mercer and a member of the Dexter 4-H Club. He helped to create interest among fellow club members in swine and beef projects.

DISTRICT WINNERS

District winners in The Constitution program who competed for state honors and who won pins were Sara Nell Morris, Henry County; Jerry Whiteside, new state 4-H president, Polk County; Gordon Durham, Greene; Ray Bobo, Dade; Eva Jo Dunahoo, Barrow; Jean Gainous, Grady; Cephas Williamson, Sumter; Joan East, Chatham; Ray Brown, Emanuel, and Gayle Windham, Wheeler County.

First prize in The Journal contest was $500 with $300 going to the district winners and $100 to the county winners. District winners were the Rising Fawn community 4-H Club of Dade County, Milyford Club of Cobb, Meadow Crest Club of Greene, Calvary Club of Grady, Townsend Club of McIntosh and the Culbertson Club of Colquitt County.

County winners were the Liberty Club of Dawson, Union Hill of Cherokee, Atwater of Upson, Eastway of Muscogee, Winfield of Columbia, Sparta of Hancock, New Lowell of Clay, Thalean of Sumter, Union of Candler, Harrock Hall of Chatham, Mystic of Irwin and the Crisp community 4-H Club of Lainer County.

BANQUET GUESTS

George C. Biggers, president of Atlanta Newspapers, Inc., served as toastmaster at the banquet and welcomed the 4-H members and other guests. T. L. Walton Jr., director of the 4-H community improvement program, gave a progress report on the program and W. A. Sutton, state 4-H Club leader, introduced 4-H personnel.

Featured speaker of the Journal-Constitution banquet was State 4-H Council President Joyce Venable of Jefferson, who traced the progress of 4-H in Georgia and told what is necessary for a good 4-H Club.

Governor and Mrs. Talmadge were honor guests and the chief executive spoke briefly.

Max Martin, 16, of Hart County was named state winner in dairy achievement; Joan East, 17, of Chatham, state winner in safety; James Jarrett, 18, of Floyd and Betty Ruth Stewart of Greene, state winners in gardening, and Zan Joyce of Wheeler County, state winner in home beautification.

Vernon Treadwell, 16, Walton, boys' project achievement; Jan Tye, 16, Columbia, recreation and rural arts; Rex Hand, 16, Tift, crop improvement; Ray Brown, 18, Emanuel boys' leadership, and Sylvia Hall, Hancock, cherry pie.

Mexican President Asks Nod To See Ike

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 7 (AP)—President Adolfo Duiz Cortines yesterday asked the Mexican Congress to permit him to leave the country for a few hours during a meeting with President Eisenhower on the Rio Grande River Oct. 19.

The constitution forbids the President from going outside the country without congressional permission. Quick permission is expected. The Mexican President plans to attend a luncheon in his honor to be given by Eisenhower at Falcon, Tex., during inauguration of the international Falcon Dam.

The FBI Explains Kidnaping 'Why'

All Americans have a deep, heart-sick sympathy for the parents in Kansas City whose 6-year-old son has been slain by depraved, brutal kidnapers.

From early reports, police quickly solved the case.
We congratulate them.

But we are sure that FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover himself would be willing to say that by releasing the criminal records of the three presently involved as the abductors, he was trying to warn the American people.

The woman involved is an itinerant prostitute.

One of the men had been arrested several times on charges of sodomy and molesting children and for other crimes.

Too long in this country have we allowed perverts with bestial trends to get away with light sentences, small fines or acquittal. They continue to run loose until, finally, one or more of them commit crimes such as this.

The American people never seem to learn that their penal laws must be revised to take care of vicious characters who appear and reappear on sodomy and child molestation charges. People never seem fully aware that it takes an aroused public opinion to drive police agencies and courts, when they are apathetic, into action against the rackets which breed kidnapers.

We think J. Edgar Hoover was trying to tell us something when he released the criminal records on the three accused of the ghastly murder of this innocent child.

Do we want to hear or not?

Delay in Sikes Case Is Most Unfortunate

Postponement of the hearing on removal of Paul Sikes as sheriff of Liberty County, as unavoidable as it may have been, is most unfortunate.

Surely there can be little argument over the fact that deplorable conditions existed in the area adjacent to Camp Stewart. The sole purpose of the Sikes hearing is to determine if the Liberty County sheriff "knowingly" permitted open violations of the law as charged by the grand jury.

If he did permit such violations, then he should be removed from office. If he did not, then there must be further investigation to get at the source of the evil.

We sincerely hope that Governor Talmadge does everything possible to prevent the case from being dragged through postponement after postponement in the usual pattern. The people of Hinesville, Liberty County and Georgia want a decision as quickly as possible.

In the meantime, we pray that an aroused public opinion will continue to function with vigilance in the Hinesville area to the end that the "cleanup" be permanent. If the bad situation around Camp Stewart were allowed to continue or if the recent crackdown on establishments charged with law violations is only a temporary expedient, the camp should be closed.

These Contradictions Leave Us Confused

Statements by top men of the Eisenhower administration and by the President himself concerning America's danger from Russian possession of the hydrogen bomb are conflicting and confusing. Whom and what are we to believe?

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming released a statement Sunday in which he said that Russia now is "capable of delivering suddenly and without warning the most destructive weapon ever devised by man on chosen targets in the United States."

On the same day, Rep. Cole (R-NY), chairman of the joint House-Senate Committee on Atomic Energy, said that Russia has enough deliverable hydrogen bombs to create real and imminent danger for the United States. He advocated an immediate additional expenditure of $10,000,000,000 to ready our defenses.

Monday, the President himself talked of the grave danger facing us in an address at Atlantic City, N. J. Pointing out that ocean barriers no longer protect us, the President said: "The mysteries of the atom are known to Russia. Russia's hostility to free government—and to the religious faith on which free government is built—is too well known to require recital here."

Scarcely had the President finished speaking before Secretary of Defense Wilson was saying that Soviet Russia was at least three years behind the United States in development of atomic and hydrogen bombs and that the Communists could not win a war against the free world now or ever. He said he doubted if the Reds had the capability of delivering the bombs on us.

All of which is apt to leave the American public quite confused. They would like to know in simple language where we stand.

The occurrence is reminiscent of the President's recent Boston speech in which he declared that "no sacrifice—no tax" is too great a price for safeguarding our freedom. Almost simultaneously, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was promising the American Bankers Association in Washington that tax cuts would proceed as scheduled.

These seemingly contradictory views of administration leaders and cabinet members are not conducive to building public morale or confidence.

Non-Aggression Offer Will Test Red Motives

Secretary Dulles' announcement that West Germany, France, Britain and the United States are considering giving Russia assurances against revival of German aggression should not have come as a surprise. It confirms rumors that the Western powers are about ready to offer the Soviets a nonaggression pact as a basis for easing East-West tensions.

Such a move might have value. There is no doubt but that Russia, who suffered millions of casualties and untold damage at the hands of Hitler's German hordes, fears a resurgence of German militarism.

When Adlai Stevenson proposed last month that mutual nonaggression assurances be tendered, his speech was promptly labeled "appeasement" in some quarters. Actually the idea was not his alone, nor was it new. It apparently originated with German Chancellor Adenauer and has been kicked around in Western capitals for months. Sir Winston Churchill took up the thought last May in talking of a new "Locarno Pact."

Mr. Stevenson performed a great service in bringing it into the open in this country, assuring it of some bipartisan support. After all, the proposal sounds sensible. As the Democratic Party leader phrased it:

"If the Soviet Union rejects assurances of nonaggression, if the Red army will not withdraw behind its borders, if an Austrian peace treaty and German unification are impossible except on the Soviet's terms, then we will at least have cleared the air."

It would, at least, prove whether or not Russian aggression and bombast are products of fear or whether they signify unswerving intentions for world conquest.

The Policemen Waited For Her Boy to Eat

Mother love always makes for human interest. When maternal affection combines with a sense of obligation to the society, the story becomes the more readable.

This one comes from Rock Hill, S.C.

A convict had fled the county work crew and gone home to his mother. That good lady called the police and said her son was at the house ready to surrender. But she asked the officers to delay their visit by half an hour. "I want to fix the boy some breakfast," she explained.

His fast broken, the boy waited until the police came to take him back to camp.

A mother had filled her boy's stomach, she had fulfilled her duty to the state.

Atlanta Should Heed This Toll-Road Advice

Governor Clement is correct in saying there is no definite proposal now for a toll super-highway from Chicago to Miami. But the fact that governors of several states met in Kentucky to discuss the feasibility and desirability of such a project is a definite fact. Tennessee will do well to keep informed if a toll highway along the general route is seriously in the minds of other states. Chattanooga will do well to keep alert to the need for pressing its legitimate advantages, even while the idea is in the discussion stage. The route should be through Chattanooga.

For turnpikes to succeed, intercity traffic is needed. Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta will provide much of the needed tolls to make this part of the road a success. We hope that the several agencies, the Chamber of Commerce, the Automobile Club and Chattanoogans will speak out early and loudly in behalf of our real advantages.

Who Can Check a Sheriff's Powers?

A sheriff holds office by the grace of the people who elect him. He is a big man in his county, often much bigger than the law intended him to be.

Periodic elections are one check on his power. He is subject to arrest by the coroner only. Between elections he can be removed by the judge of his Superior Court for malfeasance in office. And, according to a 1937 act of the General Assembly, he can be fired by the governor for wilfully violating state liquor laws.

This law was to be tested Wednesday, but the heart of Sheriff Paul Sikes of Liberty County had failed him. A doctor testified that the sheriff had definite evidence of heart trouble, and that his appearance might endanger his life.

Gov. Herman Talmadge, feeling his way carefully in his new role as judge, wanted to be sure. When might he appear, he wanted to know. The doctor replied he might never be well enough as long as he lived.

The hearing, the first of its kind, had attracted wide attention. The Capitol was thronged. Officers from Camp Stewart where the complaints against Sheriff Sikes originated, were there. So were some enlisted men, theoretically subject to the pollution of the honky-tonks which had been criticized by the Liberty County Grand Jury.

The House chamber was filled, and the gallery seats had a few customers. Senator Iris Blitch of Homerville was in the House in a bright new fall hat. An Atlanta businessman with time on his hands read a Wall Street Journal waiting for the proceedings to start.

George Smith II of Emanuel County, one of the defense counsel, was perfectly at home. He is speaker pro tem of the House. Shelby Myrick Sr. of Savannah, white-haired veteran of many legal battles, was with him. Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook and his assistant John Houston were ready to present their case and, if need be, defend the untested law all the way up to the State Supreme Court. Radio was there, and television cameras were poised, all set to aim their evil little red eyes on the witnesses.

Everybody was there except the sheriff. He was in a hotel. According to competent medical testimony, he was recovering from a heart attack.

It was a hearing, not a trial, and the sheriff's presence was not absolutely necessary. All felt though that he should be given a chance to appear in his own defense.

Governor Talmadge postponed the hearing until next week. Attorney Myrick was engaged then. Important cases. The following week? Attorney Smith had heavy court commitments, including a murder trial. Oct. 28, asked the governor? That suited everybody.

There is no appeal from the governor's decision in a case of this kind. The law, however, could be attacked as unconstitutional.

The crowd, obviously intrigued by the novelty of the situation, filed out in silent disappointment.

Contest for Power Due in California

WASHINGTON—When Earl Warren became Chief Justice and took his seat on the Supreme Court here, he left more than a vacancy in the governorship of California. That could, and has been, filled. He left vacant also the control and leadership of the Republican Party in California which he exercised for so long.

Politics, like nature, abhors a vacuum.

Accordingly, we are seeing the beginning of a rush to fill that particular vacuum. It is interesting here in the national capital for two reasons. For one, the two men who itch for that leadership and control occupy key posts here in the Eisenhower administration, meaning, naturally, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is not identified with the Warren ring of the party in California, and Sen. William F. Knowland, who is.

The stakes are national in this California struggle for power, however you look at it, and that projects us forward to 1956 and the Republican convention of that year when it may become a dramatic issue, though anyone would be foolish to forecast just how from this distance.

Meanwhile, and for the present, we may expect to hear from each of the California rivals the parroting of "harmony" and "unity" that we got in sweet doses, delivered smiling and arm-in-arm, during the activities early this week in connection with Earl Warren's ascension to the Supreme bench.

Despite that, the Vice President didn't lose a minute in capitalizing the first opportunity to make some hay for himself which was offered by the elevation of Lieut. Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, no Warren man either, to the seat vacated by Earl Warren. As he stepped off the plane from Washington in San Francisco, in company with Sen. Knowland, Mr. Nixon immediately threw his support behind "Goody" Knight.

It might not come in 1956 if President Eisenhower seeks renomination, in which case there would be no issue within the California delegation. But an eventual Nixon-Knowland clash is regarded as almost inevitable.

Both are young men—the Vice President, 40; the senator, 45. Both are ambitious. Both are regarded as possible candidates eventually for their party's presidential nomination—and there cannot be two such from a single state, even one so big as California. Only one can be the "favorite son." Aside from any presidential aspirations, being the "boss" of a key state is, itself, prize enough.

PWs Forced To Sign 'Confessions' Should Be Given Fair Chance Here

Bainbridge—Senator Russell is a bit unreasonable in his views on progressives and false confessors among returning PWs. He recommends they be immediately separated from the service under conditions other than honorable. I do not agree.

Knowing the Communists are ruthless and will stop at nothing to get what they want, we should take into consideration that these boys who are branded false confessors are not to blame. We know these confessions were obtained under considerable torture and pressure.

If these boys are condemned for signing under these pretenses, then Oatis and the others are just as guilty. Only difference is Oatis was an international figure and created an international incident; these boys were only names on a roster.

The progressives should be sent to a rehabilitation center, and have their minds washed clean of Communist teachings. Most progressives are men captured in the early part of the war. Can you deny the fact some of the weak ones would falter?

The collaborators should be punished without a doubt. They are men who collaborated with the enemy for personal comfort and gain, who squealed on their buddies for an extra bowl of rice or a couple of cigarettes. I have no feeling for these people. But the others should be given a fair chance, not condemned to live in shame the rest of their lives.

Perhaps Piedmont Has Nine Lives, Suggests Reverend

Rockmart—At long last requiem mass has been said for Piedmont College. The officiating clergyman, Frances D. Corley, seems Irish and pontifical enough to be cardinal or archbishop.

If a cat has nine lives, Piedmont could well have another life. Good people and good institutions never die. Piedmont has had prophets of doom from its beginning. As positive proof that Piedmont is dead, it is pointed out that it has only 27 to 30 freshmen. So what? I knew Piedmont when it had just one graduate, and that lone woman graduate is now holding a responsible position in New York City. No, it does not take large numbers to make a college.

To the faculty, students and friends of Piedmont I would suggest that it is real nice to live on and serve and feel good long after your critics have pronounced you dead. My good wishes to you.

John Marshall's Birthplace Wasn't Log Cabin, Says He

Atlanta—Leo Aikman's column in Oct. 4 Constitution emphasizing the parallelism of Governor Warren's elevation to be chief justice of the United States with that of John Marshall's elevation to the bench was worthy of commendation.

In referring to Marshall as the "cabin-born Virginian," however, Aikman adds a touch of picturesqueness that is without substantial basis. Marshall's father, Col. Thomas Marshall, at or shortly after the birth of John Marshall, the oldest of 15 children, was sheriff of Fauquier County, Va., one of the first and largest pioneer counties.

We Americans are justly proud of the many distinguished men and women who, though born and reared in a "log cabin," became some of our most celebrated Americans. In Marshall's case, however, the early home in which he was reared, while not palatial, was comfortable enough and among the first built in that section. When later added to by the chief justice, it became the famous "Oakhill" visited annually by thousands of Americans.

Gov. Persons, of Alabama, Upholds Civil Rights of Individual Workers

WASHINGTON—What is the definition of a true "liberal," and what is the acid test of liberalism in America today?

Gov. Gordon Persons of Alabama, Democrat, in a recent message to his Legislature, gave an explanation of the civil rights of an individual which merits the designation of liberal in the best sense of the word.

For the Alabama governor defined the "right to work" and, by the bill he made into law, thwarted attempts to enslave the workers of Alabama. This would have resulted from proposals to make the tenure of a worker's job dependent on what he thinks—a species of "thought control" almost never condemned by the so-called "liberals."

It is strange that a document of such importance has not been published generally before this outside the State of Alabama.

The text of this historic message, which is about the best summary ever written against compulsory membership in a trade union as the condition of holding a job, is presented here—the first time nationally published:

"I have given a great deal of thought to the 'right-to-work' bill (H. 222) which passed the House by 67 to 24 and the Senate 23 to 9.

"Mainly, this bill provides that no person shall be denied the privilege of working because he does not belong to a labor union and that no firm shall be forced to deduct union dues from the salary of the worker.

"Our labor union friends contend, and rightfully so, that unions have helped make possible better working conditions and higher wages. Because of this, they feel that all employes in a unionized plant should be forced to join the union and that union dues be deducted from pay checks in what is known as the 'check-off' system. Union officials refer to those who do not desire to belong to the union as 'free riders' because such nonmembers obtain benefits of unions, without helping pay for such benefits.

"Along with this same line of reasoning is the fact that our churches are the greatest organizations in the world. They have done much for all mankind. Yet, no citizen is forced to belong to any church or required to pay church dues.

"As a matter of fact, individual labor unions themselves have the right to say whether they belong to the AFL, the CIO or, in the case of others such as the railroad organizations and the UMW, to remain free and independent unions.

"The Alabama Farm Bureau Federation has done much for our farmers. Yet, no farmer is forced to be a member of the Farm Bureau or to pay dues to them unless he so desires. . . .

"Many other such examples could be given. It may well be that workers in some of our Northern states do not object to being required to join the labor organization in their plant and have no feeling about being forced to have dues deducted from their pay checks.

"However, in the South we have free and independent workers. Many wish to join labor organizations and do so. Certainly that is their privilege. On the other hand, many do not like the idea of being forced to join any labor union as a condition to work. Neither are they agreeable to having union dues deducted from their salary checks.

"In my opinion, all of our labor unions will be far stronger and the members in them will have a far greater interest and respect in the organizations if membership can be shown to be desirable and they are not forced to join.

"Because I believe in free labor and free enterprise, I am today signing the 'right-to-work' bill."

Not Damned For Being 'Lost'

One of the most beloved chapters of the Bible is Luke 15. I like the way it begins: "Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him." That tells us a lot about Christ. It means those who had failed realized that in Him they would find help instead of condemnation. We are told He was "a friend of sinners," that He liked to eat with them and gave most of his time to them. He had harsh words for self-righteous people, but always spoke kindly to those who had missed the way. In fact, the word "sinner" was seldom on His lips. He thought of them as "lost." So when the people "murmured" because He received sinners, He told four stories. In those stories we see who the lost are, how they became lost, and God's attitude toward them.

First, there was the sheep that was lost. It was not a bad sheep. No doubt it loved the shepherd just as much as the others. The story does not imply that the sheep wilfully ran away. It was eating grass one day, good grass and good for him to eat. But as he ate he so enjoyed it that he forgot the shepherd and just kept drifting away.

That is the way many people get lost. We get interested in things—even good things—and we become so absorbed we forget to pray, we are too busy to go to church, we gradually leave God out of our lives. One day something happens. Maybe it is some deep sorrow or crisis, or some great need in our lives, and we realize we are not sufficient unto ourselves. But we do not know where God is or how to find Him. We are lost.

The lost sheep was still a good sheep. Just being lost did not make it mean and depraved. The shepherd leads the sheep and, being away from the shepherd, it had no guide. It did not know which way to turn. There are many people who find themselves in that situation. They do not need to be fussed at, they need help.

Secondly, a coin was lost. That does not mean that once it was silver and turned to copper. Though it was lost it was still the same coin and just as good as it ever was. Being lost does not necessarily mean a person has thrown away all of his character, principles and ideals.

The coin was lost because it was out of circulation. A coin represents service. But unless it is spent it accomplishes nothing. There are many fine people who are not doing anything as far as service to God is concerned.

They are like the man who buried his talents in the ground, or the fig tree that produced no fruit. The highest purpose of man is to serve God. If one is not using his talents for God, then he is lost. As far as the work of God is concerned, many people are out of circulation.

Sgt. York Led The Way to Town

Having overlooked yesterday as the 104th birthday of the late J. Whitcomb Riley, who metrically memorialized "frost on the punkin," may I make amends by noting this historical fact: On Oct. 8, 1918, Sgt. Alvin C. York of Pall Mall, Tenn., shot 20 German soldiers and persuaded 132 others to go home with him to the American lines. For that he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and an advisory role in the Hollywood production of "Sergeant York." Having been led by the World War I hero on one occasion, I profess a personal interest. That was four years ago on a vacation tour through Kentucky and Tennessee.

The highway south from Albany, Ky., crosses the Cumberland River by ferry just outside the town. The road climbs out of the valley and soon crosses the state line. Inside Tennessee a few miles is Pall Mall, the post office and country store where Alvin York went to sign up for the Army. By this time the Pall Mall post office may have fallen victim to the GOP postal economy drive. But it was there in the fall of '49 and the boy loafing outside proffered the information that the York home was on the left down the road a little piece.

Here was a land of orchards and oil wells, modest pumpers it is true, but a flow steady enough to let a man sit back, sip his cider and relax.

The York house was no shack. It was a boxlike, two-story residence made for family living.

A tall, somewhat paunchy man was in the front yard eating an apple. He had several more in his hand. He did not look at all like Gary Cooper.

I said I was looking for Sgt. Alvin York. The man with the apples said, "You don't need to look any farther." We made conversation for a few minutes. He said, "I know Atlanta well. I went into the Army there, at old Camp Gordon." I asked the way to Jamestown, Tenn. "You see that pickup truck," Sgt. York said, "I am right now going to Jamestown in that truck. Follow me."

That was the day we followed Sgt. York, not into battle, but into the county seat. I still think he should have offered us an apple.

City Hall All 'Quiet' As Officials Convene

R. E. Lee Field

Alderman R. E. Lee Field, Atlanta's mayor pro tem, reported a "quiet day" at City Hall yesterday.

Field signed into law ordinances passed by city council earlier this week, acting for Mayor Hartsfield, who addressed the Iowa Municipal League in Des Moines last night.

The "quietness" observed by the alderman resulted from the fact that many city officials are attending the 20th annual convention of the Georgia Municipal Association in Brunswick.

Post Office Reduction Is Studied

Postal inspectors have investigated some of the smallest of Georgia's 352 fourth-class post offices in order to determine if any of them should be abolished to save money, a Post Office department spokesman said here yesterday.

The spokesman said less than half of the fourth-class offices in the state will be affected.

Reports on the investigations have been sent to Washington, where officials will decide whether to close some of the "cracker barrel" offices.

The spokesman said no Georgia offices have been closed as a direct result of Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's economy order. Several have been closed during the past year because of the retirement of postmasters or the desire of patrons, in accordance with long-standing post office policy, the spokesman said.

The spokesman emphasized that the Post Office department "is not doing away with all fourth-class post offices, but only those where equal or better service can be provided for less cost."

Where fourth-class offices are abolished—as several in western North Carolina have been—rural routes are extended to serve people who formerly patronized the offices, the spokesman added.

No office will be closed until patrons have an opportunity to present their views to postal officials, he said.

Nationwide Manhunt Pressed for Tattooed Kidnaper Accused of Slaying Bobby ing from drunkeness to vagrancy to petty larceny marked his widespread criminal activities. He has been picked up by police in Missouri, Illinois, Texas, California, Kansas, Nebraska and Louisiana.

Five feet, six inches tall, stocky, heavily scarred, brown-haired, blue-eyed and ruddy complexion, Marsh is distinguished by the fact that the ring finger of his left hand is amputated at the knuckle and by his tattoos.

The cross on his right forearm is inscribed: "In memory of sister—Tom Marsh."

Hall's criminal record was less extensive, though possibly just as ominous. He was paroled from the Missouri State Penitentiary only last April after serving one and one-half years of a five-year robbery sentence.

He had previously been picked up in Kansas City when the Army said he was absent without leave and in Milwaukee on a vagrancy charge which was dismissed.

The Heady woman first appeared on a police record in 1933, when she was arrested in Danville, Ill., on a charge of prostitution. But she was released.

Two years later, Kansas City police picked her up on suspicion of committing a holdup, but she was freed two days later. Within months, she escaped jail again—this time after Muskogee, Okla., police accused her of aiding a federal prisoner to escape and in slayings.

Her first conviction was on a lewd conduct charge in Springfield, Mo., in 1937, but she only had to pay a fine of $25. The next year she was arrested on a prostitution charge in Danville, Ill., but was freed again.

Police annals next turn her up as Betty Justice. It was under that name that a federal grand jury in Los Angeles indicted her Sept. 29, 1948, on charges of harboring a federal fugitive. She was acquitted.

Sheriff Sikes Pleads Illness, Wins Delay

ill to appear at yesterday's hearing—and "possibly might never be able" to appear.

Sikes' health will not cause him to resign, however, Attorney Smith declared. Smith said Sikes can delegate his duties to deputies.

Most seats in the House chamber were filled for the unprecedented hearing. WSB-TV cameras and radio microphones were present.

Talmadge read the Liberty County grand jury's charges that Sikes had "knowingly failed and neglected" to enforce liquor laws. He read the law which made an ouster hearing mandatory.

Attorney Smith asked a delay at 9 a.m. on two grounds: First, that Myrick had not arrived from Savannah, and second, that Sheriff Sikes was too ill to appear. He submitted a letter from Dr. Carter Smith of Atlanta concerning Sikes' condition.

Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook noted that the letter was not sworn. The governor granted a 30-minute delay and called on the defense to produce a doctor to swear that the sheriff was physically unable to be present.

Myrick appeared, stating he had ridden a taxicab from Sandersville when his train was delayed.

Young Sikes testified his father had suffered two heart attacks since coming to Atlanta Sunday, against the doctor's advice, to prepare for the hearing. He said his father's heart trouble dated back to 1949.

Dr. Russell testified when the hearing reopened.

The governor stated he would not want to do anything to affect adversely the sheriff's health and granted the delay. He first tried to reschedule the hearing for next Wednesday and then for Wednesday week, but Sikes' attorneys said they had cases in courts on those dates.

A number of witnesses were on hand to testify.

As he granted the 30-minute delay with the hope the hearing could proceed on the new date, the governor observed that the witnesses had traveled a long distance for the hearing.

Miss Jarrell To Join Educators on Panel

Miss Ira Jarrell, superintendent of Atlanta schools, will join seven other national educators Dec. 4 in New York City in a panel discussion sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. The panel discussion of high school-industry relations will be a feature of the 58th Industrial Congress of American Industry. Miss Jarrell was invited to speak by Charles R. Slight, NAM president.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Lovellette Leaves Phillips, To Sign With NBA Lakers BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Oct. 7. (AP)—Clyde Lovellette was reported in Minneapolis tonight to sign a contract with that city's entry in the professional National Basketball Association, and to make a movie short with the Lakers squad.

Lovellette had been with the Phillips Petroleum 66ers since the 1952-53 season.

Coach Bud Browning said tonight Lovellette, one of Philips' top scorers last season, made the decision himself to join the pro ranks.

"Naturally we regret Clyde has chosen to leave Phillips," Browning declared. "We understand Minneapolis offered him an attractive contract . . ."

Chisox Mull Lane Release

Chicago Foreman Seeks To Join Baltimore Outfit

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO, Oct. 7—(AP)—The Comiskey clan tonight debated whether to grant a requested release of Frank Lane as general manager of the White Sox to take an important post with the Baltimore Orioles.

Lane asked his release from a Sox contract extending through 1955 to become a key man in operation of the new Baltimore entry in the American League and presumably acquire Oriole stock.

This was learned from a highly reliable source, although neither Lane nor Clarence W. Miles, chairman of the Orioles' board of directors confirmed it.

However, late this afternoon, Chuck Comiskey, 27-year-old White Sox vice president, issued this terse statement:

"The situation of Frank Lane going to Baltimore or staying in Chicago is now under consideration and no decision has been reached yet."

Reportedly Comiskey, his mother and club president, Mrs. Grace R. Comiskey, and other club officials were at odds on whether the trade-minded Lane should be released.

Young Comiskey, who has come off second best in previous policy debates with his mother, was quoted today saying he "wouldn't want to stand in Frank's way if it were possible to better himself greatly."

According to a well-informed source, Lane certainly could "better himself greatly" with the Baltimore syndicate, headed by Miles, which recently bought the St. Louis Browns and had the American League approve transfer of the franchise to the Eastern city.

A possible counter move by the Sox would be to give Lane a long-term contract and salary boost.

Lane, besides the financial lure of the Baltimore job, also is said to be motivated to leave the Sox by the fact that Comiskey one day is destined to take full charge of the baseball dynasty started by his grandfather, Charles (Old Roman) Comiskey.

Series Pot Worth $8,280.68 To Yanks, $6,178.42 to Bums

Winners' Pool Easily Shatters Cleveland Record; Brooklyn's Share Outstrips Giants' Melon of '51

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—(AP)—Each member of the New York Yankees who received a full World Series share will bank a record check for $8,280.68, it was announced today by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. Those voted full shares by the losing Brooklyn Dodgers will receive $6,178.42.

The Yankee windfall, shared by 22 players, Manager Casey Stengel, four coaches, the club trainer and road secretary, easily eclipsed the previous record payoff of $6,772.05 pocketed by the world champion Cleveland Indians of 1948. Second place money compares to the $4,951.03 previous high received by the New York Giants two years ago.

Each of the second-place clubs in the two leagues, Cleveland in the American, and Milwaukee in the National, will receive $51,850.62 from the whopping World Series receipts to divide among its players.

The Chicago White Sox, third in the American League, receive $34,567.08 for player distribution, the Boston Red Sox, fourth in the American, $17,283.54. As the Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cards tied for third place in the National League, they will split third and fourth-place money.

In announcing the series cuts, the commissioner only gave the names of individuals sharing in the Yankee and Dodger melon. The individual listings for the other first division clubs were not released.

In addition to awarding 29 full shares, the Yankees cut in 16 others for various sums.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION PEACH SPORTS SECTION

The Dodgers whacked up their melon into 29 full shares and six part shares.

Infielder Gerry Coleman, who joined the Yankees on Aug. 28 after leaving Korea and the Marines, was awarded a one-third share of $2,760.21.

Catcher Ralph Houk, who was dropped from the players' roster in July to become a bull pen catcher and coach, received a full share. Rookies Steve Kraly and Gus Triandos, who came up on July 31, each collected half shares of $4,140.34 along with Ewell Blackwell, who left the club in July because of a sore shoulder.

The Dodgers gave Ralph Branca, who was traded to Detroit, $1,544.61, a fourth share. The same went to Erv Palica, who didn't get out of the Army until late September.

Don Newcombe, the big Dodger hurler who spent the entire season in the Army, was remembered with $500.

Here's how the players divided their shares.

YANKEES

DODGERS

$6,178.42 each—Bill Antonello, Wayne Belardi, Joe Black, Roy Campanella, Bill Cox, Carl Erskine, Carl Furillo, Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges, Jim Hughes, Clem Labine, Billy Loes, Russ Meyer, Bob Milliken, Bob Morgan, Johnny Podres, Joe Ware Reese, Jackie Robinson, Preacher Roe, George Shuba, Duke Snider, Don Thompson, Ben Wade, Rube Walker, manager Charley Dressen, coach Billy Herman, coach Cookie Lavagetto, coach Jake Pitler, and trainer Harold Wendler. $4,633.81—Dick Williams.

OKLAHOMA BACK DETERMINED SIZE, HURT WON'T LICK HIM

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 7—(AP)—A determined little cuss, his right arm taped tightly to his body, disagrees with the doctors.

"I'll be back out there in three weeks," said Oklahoma halfback Jack Ging. "You just watch. My shoulder's going to knit. I heal fast. I know it's going to be all right."

The 157-pound senior suffered a shoulder separation in Saturday's game at Pittsburgh, an injury doctors say may finish his collegiate career.

"I feel ashamed," he went on. "This is the first time in my life I ever got hurt playing football. I don't like to get hurt. It shows a weakness in a person.

"What makes me so mad is that everybody will say I got hurt because I'm so little. But I've always felt that I'm as good as the big boys.

"I love football, but all my life they've tried to discourage me from playing. I've always had to prove myself to everybody.

"And nothing's going to stop me from playing it," he insisted. "You just watch."

Tech May Lose Frey for Year, Gossage Gets Left Tackle Job

Hair Switched to Hensley's Flank, Davis and Trainer Man Other End

By EDWIN POPE

Ace tackle Roger Frey learned yesterday that he may miss the rest of the Georgia Tech football season, and Coach Bobby Dodd flung tri-captain Ed Gossage into the gap.

Two - hundred - twenty - pound Frey, a junior from Bethlehem, Pa., has been rated along with guard Frank Brooks and center Larry Morris as a two-way line mainstay. He has cartilaginous injuries of a knee and probably will not even put on a uniform for Saturday's date with Tulane in New Orleans.

Dodd's elevation of Gossage to the starting left tackle position means that for the first time this season Tech's tri-captains all will start. Right guard Orville Vereen and left end Sam Hensley are the others.

Gossage, 204-pound former offensive specialist from Nashville, Tenn., gets Frey's job over junior Ben Daugherty because of his work in the 6-4 defeat of Southern Methodist.

Dodd also switched junior Henry Hair from right to left end. That will leave Hensley and Dave Davis as starters, with Hair and Cecil Trainer in the oft-used second unit. Since Hensley and Trainer are at their best on defense and Hair and Davis excel as receivers, the transfer will offer additional balance.

One of Dodd's earlier moves—elevation of freshmen halfbacks George Volkert and Johnny Menger to the varsity—showed a payoff in yesterday's stiff scrimmage. The pair shared running laurels with junior fullback George Humphreys and junior halfback Larry Ruffin. Menger, Augusta 165-pounder, also distinguished himself punting.

"The offense is going better," Dodd said, "and that's what we're after this week."

The bossman appraised his club's chances against Tulane as "maybe a little better than even."

THE BRIEFCASE: Halfback Leon Hardeman needs only 11 yards to set an all-time Tech career rushing record. Bobby North set the existing standard of 1,505 yards over the 1947-48-49-50 seasons. Hardeman stands to break it in a three-year varsity career. . . . Tech's offense may be altogether too deceptive. Three times, officials have called back long gains on the belly play because of confusion over who had the ball. . . . You can hardly blame Tech coaches for being super-sensitive about pass defense. Nobody has scored on the Jackets through the air in 20 games. . . . Ruffin's running yesterday was slightly terrific, and at this moment he may be the squad's top ballcarrier. Yet the tragic fact remains that Ruffin will see limited action because he does not tackle well. That deficiency traces to his West Point High days, when he favored a shoulder injury.

The 0-0 tie with Florida and narrow squeak with SMU has not cut Dodd's fan mail. Bill Edwards, a Cub Scout in Griffin, wrote: "I cried when Florida tied you, but you're still a great team to me." . . . Billy Joe Paris, a six-year-old fan who lives at 90 Fifth Street, telephones Dodd almost daily and the coach outlines his strategy to the youthful follower.

Saturday's action against the Rambling Wreck.

The Greenies, who battled highly rated Michigan to a near standstill for about three quarters last week, could gain in national prestige by beating Tech which hasn't been defeated in 29 games.

BIGGEST TERRAPIN—COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 7—Perhaps the scales at Maryland don't measure that high accurately, but the school's football brochure lists tackle Stan Jones in different places as 235 and 245 pounds. Either way, he's the biggest man on the squad and a real standout. The senior tackle will be in the lineup against Georgia Saturday.

Terps' Breunich Recovered From Hurt, To Face Georgia

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 7—(AP)—Tom Breunich, starting junior in Maryland's first three games, was back at the No. 1 left tackle post today in scrimmages for Saturday's game with Georgia.

The 210-pounder from Pelham, N. Y., was hurt against Clemson last Saturday and yesterday it looked like he'd have to give way to co-captain Bob Morgan.

But Breunich, who was regular offensive tackle last season, went through a lengthy scrimmage with the first team against Georgia offenses and defenses.

Morgan was a defensive tackle the past two seasons. Since a knee injury forced him to sit out the opener with Missouri he has performed with the second eleven.

The first string spent an hour scrimmaging against Georgia plays run by the second team. Then it worked half an hour with its own split T offense against Georgia defenses.

ONE HECK OF A HALFBACK

Bill Hartman: Jimmy Williams Rates With Bulldog All-Timers on Defense

By DEWEY BENEFIELD
Special to The Constitution

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 7—Jimmy Williams is only a sophomore, but Georgia defensive backfield coach Bill Hartman today named the slender Athenian on his all-time Bulldog defensive backfield.

"Jimmy is a natural defensive player," says Hartman. "He made our first team as a freshman last season at right defensive sideback, and played well enough to make the all-Southeastern Conference freshman team selection. This year he's good enough to rate all-star consideration for his all-round value. He's going to be a valuable offensive back, too." To which offensive backfield coach which offensive backfield coach Sterling Dupree adds an amen.

Williams plays either sideback and safety on defense. He's a fine handler of punts, having run back five punts for 71 yards, almost breaking loose for a touchdown against Tulane.

"The best thing Jimmy can do is tackle," says Hartman. "He really jars the ball-carrier and he comes up fast to meet them."

Among the outstanding defensive backs Hartman coached at Georgia have been Charley Trippi, and Andy Dudish, safety men; sidebacks Walter McGuire, Cliff Kimsey, Claude Hipps, Buck Bradberry and Johnny Rauch.

Williams will face an acid test on defense this Saturday afternoon when Georgia meets Maryland.

Coach Butts sent the Bulldogs through a comparatively light drill Wednesday afternoon. The squad entrains for Washington, D.C., Thursday night. Headquarters will be the Congressional Hotel in Washington. They will return by plane Saturday night.

BULLDOG BITS: Georgia's defense continued to drill against Maryland split-T plays. Joe O'Malley, not fully recovered from a leg injury which sidelined him last week, was back at end. . . . Bob Clemens appeared in better health at fullback, but understudy Howard Kelly suffered a slight knee injury. Freshmen were rushed into the holes at guard and tackle as coaches rapidly groomed replacements for injured regulars. Starting guards Bruce Wimberley and Sam Mrvos were in sweats and there is doubt they will see extensive action. . . . The offense was clicking satisfactorily with Zeke Bratkowski at the helm. Zeke is hoping for a repeat performance of his two brilliant passing efforts against the Terps in 1951 and 1952.

Turner Flails Scortichini For Decision

DETROIT, Oct. 7—(AP)—Gil Turner, the Philadelphia buzz saw, slammed away almost at will tonight to score a unanimous 10-round decision over back-pedaling Italo Scortichini of Italy before a small crowd of 3,053 in Olympia Stadium. Turner weighed 156, Scortichini 155½.

Slashing with lefts and rights, Turner was in complete command after the first two rounds. He raked his squat opponent with as many as 100 blows in one round.

An unofficial count showed the 22-year-old Turner, ranked second among the welters, fired 830 punches during the scrap.

At times the one-sided bout resembled a track meet, with Turner chasing the 24-year-old Italian from one side of the ring to another.

Neither fighter had ever been knocked down and Turner, punching like a demon, tried desperately to end Scortichini's streak in the 10th round. He flailed away and tried to smash Scortichini through the ropes. Gil even fired a few bolos and did a rhumba dance a la Kid Gavilan.

Dooley, Freeman Units Look Sharp at Auburn

Coach-of-Week Jordan To Bank On Platoons Against Maroons

Special to The Constitution

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 7—Auburn's Ralph (Shug) Jordan, recipient of the United Press' Coach of the Week honor, is banking on the platoon system against Mississippi State at Starkville this Saturday.

Jordan was the first Southeastern Conference mentor to substitute by units. He plans to throw a first team quarterbacked by Vince Dooley and a second platoon led by Bobby Freeman against the Maroons.

Dooley's outfit worked on offense today while Freeman's men drilled defensively. Dooley was sharp throwing to ends Vince Nardone and Jimmy Long, and his ground forces of Fob James Jr., Charlie Hataway and Charlie Littles worked with success.

Freeman and halfback Johnny Adams were outstanding practicing against a State attack simulated by red shirts. Jim Peerson, playing the role of State star Jackie Parker had poor going with his passing.

It was the final rough work of the week, and Jordan liked it. "We have confidence in the boys, and they have confidence in each other," said Jordan.

TIGER SCRATCHES: Bill Burbank, who has been playing Parker's part, was promoted to the first varsity platoon under Dooley. Each platoon has its own one-shot subs . . . Joe Davis worked both at quarterback and right halfback on the Freeman unit . . . Three freshmen will make the Starkville trip. They are tackles James Warren of Valdosta, Ga., and Jim Strain of Fairfield, Ala., and fullback Ray Minor of Hamilton.

Tulane Gridders Hold Rough Drill

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7 (AP)—Tulane Coach Bear Wolf put his gridders through a tough scrimmage session and contact drills today as the Green Wave prepared for Saturday's invasion by Georgia Tech.

Coach Wolf used quarterback Ray Weidenbacher, halfbacks Lester Kennedy and Bobby Saia and fullback Ronnie Quillian on his first team in today's drills.

Weidenbacher, Kennedy, Quillian and halfback Max McGee practiced punting before the rough work got under way.

McGee, guard Al Robelot and Harold Hawkins were excused from contact drills and scrimmage. All are recovering from injuries received against Michigan last week. McGee and Robelot are expected to be ready for

Irish Seek OK For Local TV Of Tech Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 7 (AP)—Notre Dame today asked the National Collegiate Athletic Association's permission to telecast locally the Georgia Tech-Notre Dame football game here Oct. 24.

The 56,000-seat Notre Dame stadium was sold out for the inter-sectional clash weeks ago. The local telecast would be handled by WSBT-TV of South Bend.

Notre Dame's lone game to be telecast nationally under NCAA restrictions this season is the Dec. 5 meeting here with Southern Methodist.

KEOW-keow-keow . . .

For some time now I have been scraping a piece of slate against the thin edge of a little cedar box. The sound produced is prettier to me than the notes of a priceless violin. I only hope it sounds enough like the plaintive call of a turkey hen to lure a wise old gobbler within range of Number 4's.

Anyway, practicing on my yelper helps to while away the time until October 20 when the greatest of all game birds becomes a legitimate target in the South Georgia swamps.

To me the turkey is still representative of the wilderness known to the pioneers. The quail feeds close to the houses and barns of the farmer. Even the whitetail deer takes rather kindly to civilization. But the turkey wants the deep wods. He hates the sight of man and avoids him with exasperating success.

In hunting turkeys, a good local guide is usually well worth his fee. But if you know you're on turkey range, you can look for sign: leaves and trash scratched into great windrows, the large tracts in dust or muck, the "washes" in sunny, sandy, sheltered places, for this bird takes dust baths like the quail.

Some serious hunters have dogs trained on turkeys. The dog locates and scatters the birds. Then the hunter must conceal himself and use his yelper. The call must be used sparingly or the birds will become suspicious. After a time the scattered flock will try to get together again.

Skilled callers can also set themselves up in a blind and call up a turkey from a flock feeding near by.

"Roosting" is another method. This consists of keeping watch on a flock until the roost site is located. Then, after the birds have flown up into the trees for the night, the hunter goes just at dusk, stalking with extreme caution until he gets within gun range. This sounds rather simple, but the casualty rate on squirrel nests and clumps of mistletoe, mistaken for turkeys, remains rather high.

Bob Waterfield, Sanders Clash

Condensed from Constitution Wire Reports

Football Coach Red Sanders of UCLA and Bob Waterfield, former UCLA and Los Angeles Rams quarterback, tangled yesterday over scouting policies.

Waterfield, who quit football after last season, criticized Sanders for letting his assistant coaches scout the Rams for the Chicago Cardinals.

Waterfield said he does not question the ethics of college coaches scouting a pro team. "But," he said, "there are some UCLA grads on the Ram team—Don Paul, Tom Fears, Leon McLaughlin and Harry Thompson. And there are plenty of UCLA fans who are also Ram fans. How do you think they feel about the fact that the coach of their alma mater is trying to beat them?"

Sanders claimed the scouting practice grew from a feud between Hamp Pool, present Ram coach, and Joe Stydahar, former Ram coach now with the Cards. Stydahar accused Pool of trying to undermine him when both were with the Rams.

Alabama's game against Tulsa at Tuscaloosa Saturday will be dedicated to line coach Hank Crisp for 25 years service. Alumni will give Crisp a new car and other gifts.

Mike Caskey, 177-pound halfback who scored one touchdown and set up another in South Carolina's 19-0 victory over Virginia, was named the AP's Atlantic Coast Conference Sophomore of the Week. Caskey averaged 15.2 yards for six rushes.

The Southern Conference's three remaining undefeated teams – West Virginia, Richmond and George Washington—dominate first loop statistics. WVU leads in rushing offense with 306.5 yards per game, in rushing defense with a 91.5-yard average. Richmond leads in total defense with a 177.7-yard average and pass defense with a 36.7-per mark. George Washington is tops in pass offense with a 139.5-yard average.

Both Michigan and Michigan State's centers are injured. Wolverine Dick O'Shaughnessy suffered a leg hurt and may not play against Iowa. Spartan Jim Neal has a bruised foot and will see limited service against TCU.

Ben Dunkerley, second-team all-America tackle in 1952, quit the West Virginia squad without explanation. He has been hurt off and on this year.

because of scholastic deficiencies. The boy's father said the boy might have gone to south Georgia, where the family has relatives in the vicinity of Moultrie, or to Florida.

The Chicago Daily News said that welterweight champion Kid Gavilan will defend his title against Johnny Bratton at Chicago Stadium Nov. 6 in a nationally televised bout.

Gov. John Battle went to bat for Richmond in the city's effort to secure a franchise in the Class AAA International League. The governor "invited" Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League, to annex Richmond as a replacement for Baltimore, which last week moved into the majors.

U. S. middleweight champion Bobo Olson signed to meet England's Randy Turpin for the world title on Oct. 21 at Madison Square Garden.

Onetime lightweight boxing champion Ad Wolgast showed improvement today and was able to leave his bed for a time at the California State Mental Hospital. Wolgast, 65, has a respiratory condition. He was titlist from 1910 to 1912.

Federal judge George Welsh ordered a mistrial of the damage case of Al Ettore, former heavyweight boxer, against Philco TV and a New York manufacturing company because a paper revealed that Ettore was suing for $200,000. Ettore says that a TV showing of his 1936 fight with Joe Louis was edited to leave out rounds in which Ettore fought his best. Under Pennsylvania law, the amount sought in a civil suit is not disclosed to the jury during the trial.

Marian W. O'Connor's La Corredora won the $59,000 Ladies' Handicap at Belmont Park, oldest race in this country for fillies and mares. Second was Nothirdchance, third was How. La Corredora paid $23.80, $8.80 and $4.90.

BASEBALL TRAVELOGUE

Cavaretta Rehired As Cubs' Manager

Compiled From Constitution Wire Reports

Phil Cavarretta will get another chance with the Chicago Cubs, but unlike his previous tenures as head man of the Chicago team, he will do his 1954 guiding from the bench.

Since he took over the club in July of 1951 when Frankie Frisch was fired, Cavarretta was on the active player list. He served only as a pinch hitter this past season and produced six hits in 21 tries.

His re-hiring was announced yesterday by Wid Mathews, director of the Cubs' player personnel.

Commissioner Ford Frick fined Manager Chuck Dressen of the Dodgers and outfielder Irv Noren of the Yankees $100 each for their part in outbursts in the recent World Series.

Dressen was tagged for arguing with umpire Art Gore during the fourth game after Phil Rizzuto had nicked a pitch and Gore had called it a ball. Noren found his series payoff $100 lighter for waving a towel at scorekeepers after they had given Junior Gilliam an error on Billy Martin's smash in the first inning.

Had Martin received credit for that hit he would have established a new series mark for hits at 13 rather than tie the old one.

Jackie Robinson and his all-star baseball team will open a 30-day barnstorming tour at Baltimore Friday night. Robinson's team will by-pass Atlanta this year, play in Charlotte, Chattanooga, Birmingham, Memphis and Nashville.

Harry (The Hat) Walker, who was named manager of the year in the International League this winter, has been rehired to pilot the Rochester Red Wings in 1954.

Vernon Thies and Clarence Churn were purchased conditionally yesterday by Pittsburgh from the New Orleans Pelicans of the Southern Association.

The New York Giants bought shortstop William Gardner, outfielder Harvey Gentry and first baseman Gail Harris from the Nashville Vols.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and his wife will leave New York to join Leo Durocher and his wife in San Francisco and a group of New York Giant baseball players who will make an exhibition tour of Japan. The team will play 18 games with the first one in Honolulu Saturday.

Big Little Cappalletti Cheers Vanderbilt

Condensed From Wire Reports

The smallest man on the Vanderbilt squad may prove the plug to stop up the Commodores' sieve-like pass defense.

Bob Cappalletti, 5-8 halfback from Elkhart, Ind., starred in the secondary today as Vandy swept through a spirited drill for its Saturday game with Ole Miss.

Coach Art Guepe said Cappalletti has won himself plenty of playing time against the Rebels.

At Oxford, Coach Johnny Vaught has been preening Ole Miss for a comeback from the 13-0 loss to Auburn. Reb attaches call this rough week a "smarten-up, sharpen-up" period.

Bob Monnett, Bobby Luna, Tommy Lewis and Corky Tharp were leaders in an Alabama scrimmage. 'Bama meets Tulane Saturday.

Bobby Collins passed well to Lou Venier as quarterback Jack Parker saw only short service in a pre-Auburn drill at Mississippi State.

Freshman Win Turner, acting as a Kentucky quarterback, failed to click as LSU's red-shirts ran Wildcat plays against the Tiger defense. LSU is host to Kentucky Saturday.

Two Tennessee regulars—end Roger Rotroff and tackle Bob Fisher — are doubtful starters against Chattanooga.

Sophomore guard Duke Cornutte was moved to tackle and sophomore guard O. E. Philpot stood out in Kentucky drills.

Capital City Golfers Win

Capital City golfers, led by Harvie Ward, extended their lead in the Inter-Club League play at Meadowbrooks Country Club yesterday by turning in a one-under-par 281 for the four-man aggregate.

Ward fired a 66 and Gordon Clay registered a 69 as Bob Sulzer and Jim Clay added 74s for the winners.

Second place went to Druid Hills who finished with 306. Tommy Barnes led the way with a 69. The host Meadowbrooks Club team was third with 310 and Adams Park and Ansley Park were third with 315s.

Tech, Maryland and Ole Miss Picked To Pass Gridiron Tests

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—(AP)—Michigan State, UCLA and Ohio State running in order behind Notre Dame in the national rankings, are picked to win again this football weekend but at least one of them is in for plenty of trouble.

UCLA is on the spot against Wisconsin Friday night in a match at Los Angeles that'll bring together two of the brightest individual stars of the season—Paul Cameron of UCLA and Alan (The Horse) Ameche of Wisconsin. An upset may be brewing but the pick is Cameron and UCLA.

THE EAST

California over Pennsylvania — Close but Penn lacks the big punch to handle a foe of this caliber.

Army over Dartmouth—Cadets should rebound with ease.

Navy over Cornell—Fair test for Navy's new power.

ALSO: Pittsburgh over Nebraska, Villanova over Boston College, Penn State over Boston U., Brown over Rhode Island, Harvard over Colgate, Holy Cross over Bucknell, Princeton over Rutgers, Fordham over Syracuse, Yale over Columbia.

THE MIDWEST

Michigan State over Texas Christian—Spartans hold most of the aces.

Ohio State over Illinois—Bucks can run or pass as needed.

Michigan over Iowa—Wolverines defense should hold 'em.

ALSO: Northwestern over Minnesota, Marquette over Indiana, Kansas over Colorado, Kansas State over Iowa State, Cincinnati over Toledo, Houston over Detroit.

THE SOUTH

Georgia Tech over Tulane—Figures mighty close.

Louisiana State over Kentucky—Tigers are toughies this year.

U.S. Pros Rout Foes In Europe

PARIS, Oct. 7—(AP)—The U.S. Ryder Cup golf team won seven of 10 singles matches to defeat a team of leading European pros, 12-3, in a two-day match at the St. Cloud course.

The American pros won four of the five Scotch foursome matches yesterday. Today they dropped just one match and halved two others.

Spain's Marcelini Morcillo scored the only European singles victory when he defeated Ray Maguire of Birmingham, Mich., 6 and 4. Maguire subbed for big Ed Oliver.

France's Albert Pelissier tied Walt Burkemo, the U.S. PGA champion, and Italy's Ugo Grappasonni broke even with Lloyd Mangrum, the U.S. captain from Niles, Ill.

The other results were:

Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, defeated Francois Saubaber, France, 4 and 3.

Jim Turnesa, White Plains, N. Y., defeated Gerard De Wit, Netherlands, 3 and 1.

Jackie Burke Jr., Houston, Tex., defeated Alphonso Angelini, Italy, 5 and 3.

Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., defeated Aldo Casera, Italy, 7 and 6.

Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., defeated Georg Bessner, Germany, 4 and 2.

Dave Douglas, Newark, Del., defeated Arthur de Vulder, Belgium, 6 and 5.

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., defeated Jean Baptist Ado, France, 4 and 3.

Spahn, Lopat Take Majors' ERA Titles

Both of Last Year's Winners Ineligible To Retain Laurels

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—(AP)—Willowy Warren Spahn of the Milwauke Braves and stocky Ed Lopat of the New York Yankees, a pair of veteran left-handers, topped the major leagues in earned run effectiveness for 1953.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press disclose that Spahn allowed 62 earned runs in 266 innings to top the National League listings with a 2.10 average. Lopat led the American League with a 2.43 ERA, on 48 earned runs in 178 innings.

Spahn, who also won the earned run title in 1947 with a 2.33 mark, posted the lowest ERA in the National League since 1946. That year Howie Pollet of the Cards owned an identical pace-setting 2.10 average.

The 31-year-old fastballer, in his eighth full season with the Braves, won 23 and lost seven for his best year in the majors. He hurled 25 complete games, five of them shutouts. It also marked the fifth time he has been a 20-game winner.

Lopat became the first American League pitcher to head the loop in both earned run average and won-lost percentage since the Yanks' Spud Chandler turned the trick in 1943. In his tenth season in the junior circuit, Lopat recorded a 16-4 record for an .800 percentage.

The 35-year-old southpaw, who climaxed his successful season with a triumph over the Dodgers in the World Series, had a 2.54 ERA last season, but he pitched only 149 innings. In order to be eligible for earned run crown, however, a pitcher must hurl at least 154 innings.

Allie Reynolds of the Yanks and Hoyt Wilhelm of the Giants, last year's earned run leaders, were ineligible this season. Each had only 145 innings pitched.

Runnerup to Spahn in the National League rankings was rugged Robin Roberts of the Phils. Roberts yielded 106 earned runs in 347 innings for a 2.75 average. Rookie Bob Buhl of the Braves finished third with 3.00, followed by Harvey Haddix of the Cards, 3.06, and Curt Simmons of the Phils, 3.23.

Billy Pierce of the White Sox placed second in the American League with a 2.72 ERA, having permitted 82 earned runs in 271 innings. Behind him were teammate Virgil Trucks, 2.93, and Whitey Ford and Johnny Sain, both of the Yanks, tied at 3.00 each.

The figures (for pitchers who worked in 154 or more innings):

WOLF ON PROWL FOR GRADY TONIGHT

J. B. Hendrix Is Southwest's Top Ball-Carrying Threat

W. Fulton, Murphy Meet At Grady Stadium Tonight

Red-Hot Grady Eleven To Battle Winless Southwest High at Cheney

By CHARLIE ROBERTS

Max Ivey's tie-happy Murphy Eagles will go after their second Northern Division City League high school football victory against winless West Fulton at Grady Stadium at 8 o'clock tonight, while across town at Cheney the thuds and thunder will be provided by unbeaten but tied Grady and defense-strong Southwest.

Baker and Jordan will resume a neighborhood feud in Columbus, powerful Trion will play host to Lakeview, Ducktown, Tenn., will be at Chatsworth to engage Murray County, Chattanooga, Tenn. City High will be at Rome, Ocilla will journey to Wacona, and the Decatur Bees will be at Warner Robins to round out the heavier-than-usual Thursday slate.

Murphy's state-defending AA champions, weary of no-decision contests after being stalemated by Decatur, LaGrange and Northside, will take to Grady turf with quarterback Travis Vining under the center for the first time since the season opener against Decatur. He's been out with a shoulder injury ever since.

Jack Hogg's luckless West Fultonites must try it from here without the services of Russell Powell, a major portion of the Owls' offense. The swift halfback suffered a broken leg in the 25-6 loss to Grady a week ago.

Coach Erskine Russell, despite the Grady win, had just as soon forget the West Fulton game, too. His Knights must continue their bid without Region 3-AA scoring leader Jeff Davis, who has a shoulder in a cast and probably is out for the year as a result of an injury in the same game.

Chub Jenkins' Southwest Wolves, in so far as the scoring and winning departments are concerned, are like Bon Ami—haven't scratched yet. But their 0-4 record isn't so bad when one notes that all foes to date, except Roosevelt, are unbeaten. They have bowed to College Park, Northside and Murphy.

The Wolves are picking on a toughie to try for their first score. Grady has allowed only three TDs and is the loop's defensive leader.

Ladies' Golf Tourney Set At Sea Island

BRUNSWICK, Oct. 7—(AP)—The first 1954 tournament sponsored by the Ladies' Professional Golf Association of America will be played on the Sea Island course Jan. 15, 16 and 17.

It will be the first major tournament on the Sea Island course in 20 years. Back in 1933 Charlie Yates of Atlanta started on his way to golf fame by winning the Georgia state championship here.

The new 54-hole meeting will be known as the Sea Island Ladies' Open Golf tournament. Amateurs will compete for 10 prizes. Purses for the professionals have not been announced yet.

The clubhouse is being enlarged in preparation for the tournament. The course is located on the site of a 19th century St. Simons Island cotton plantation with one of the nine-hole courses laid out along the water and the other inland.

Stocks Race At Lakewood

The South's fastest stock cars will race Sunday at Lakewood Speedway. Atlanta's largest field in several years is predicted.

Jack Jackson, point champion of this year's Peach Bowl competition, is entered, as are Curtis and Donald Fowler and Ralph Stradley. Jackson and Stradley will introduce new cars at this race.

Lower prices will prevail Sunday: Admission, 65c; grandstand, $2, tax included. Races begin at 2:30.

SMU Tops In Nation 'On Defense

Tech Hands Mustangs Honor

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—(AP)—Today's one-platoon football teams need fewer plays to score a touchdown than did the two-platoon specialists of last year.

Through the first 300 games of the present season, the major college elevens have scored a touchdown after 21.5 plays. Last year the same teams needed 22 plays. The survey was made by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

The bureau drew no conclusion as to the cause in the increased scoring. There are football experts who say the present one-platoon style, in which players technically are expected to go the full 60 minutes, has weakened the defense. There are others who insist that players constantly in the fray will do better on offense.

The survey also shows that each team is passing approximately four times less in each contest than a year ago.

Michigan, which belted Washington by a 50-0 score and then Tulane by 26-7, is the leading point-maker.

Southern Methodist, which has played only one game, is the nation's defensive leader, having allowed Georgia Tech only 33 yards gained in 32 plays. Tech won, however, 6-4, to maintain its unbeaten status of the past two years.

Those four points, registered on a pair of safeties, are the only points allowed by Tech. Yale, Harvard and Auburn are the only major teams to have blanked all opposition.

ATHENS, Oct. 7—University of Georgia alumni who will attend the Georgia-Maryland football game in College Park Oct. 10 have scheduled a combination dinner and pep meeting in Washington, D.C., for Friday night, Oct. 9.

The dinner will be held at the Touchdown Club, 1416 I St., NW, Washington. Reservations are being made with Fred Solomon, 20th and Constitution Ave., Washington.

All Georgia alumni who are going to Maryland for the game have been invited. Among those present will be Dr. Alfred Scott, faculty chairman of athletics at the university, and head of the chemistry department.

SET NEW TECH RECORD

'Squinch' Brooks Proves Eyes Are Okay in SMU Performance

By MERCER BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Franklin Delano Brooks crossed the street to play college football and Bobby Dodd has been happy about it ever since.

Brooks is a sensational sophomore guard at Georgia Tech, where Dodd holds forth as head coach and athletic director.

The youngster—he's only 19—won the Associated Press' lineman of the week honor for his terrific play against Southern Methodist Saturday. To Brooks goes much of the credit for a scary 6-4 victory over the Mustangs which kept alive Tech's 29-game unbeaten string.

Brooks was an outstanding guard at O'Keefe High School in Atlanta. O'Keefe's football field is just across the street from Tech's practice field, so Brooks was right at home when he shifted to Tech.

Named for the late President Roosevelt, he is called "Squinch" by his teammates because of the peculiar way he squints his eyes. But there is nothing wrong with his sight, as his grid play clearly shows.

Against SMU, Brooks made an incredible 18 tackles, erasing the old Tech mark of 16 set by all-conference linebacker George Morris against SMU last year.

Perhaps three of the most important tackles Brooks ever will make came during the Yellow Jackets' magnificent, game-saving goal line stand. SMU had recovered a fumble about a foot away from Tech's goal. In five smashes—they got an extra crack at it when both teams were offsides—the Mustangs were pushed back about a yard and a half. Brooks made the first three stops.

Says Dodd:

"I consider Brooks the greatest guard prospect we have ever had at Georgia Tech. We are proud of his selection as lineman of the week, but we were not surprised at the great game he played last Saturday. We expect him to play many more games just like that this season."

Brooks is a lad of few words and a lot of action, and probably was making the longest speech of his career when he commented:

"I sure am happy and feel greatly honored. It is a real surprise, though. I don't think I played any harder against SMU than I have any other Saturday. Well, maybe we all dug in a little deeper when they were on our one."

Brooks played both offense and defense in high school, but specialized on defense last year, when he played a lot of ball as a freshman. All four of Tech's 1952 starting guards returned, so Brooks had to beat out more experienced players for his starting post.

He is a "natural" as a football player. Brooks has added about 20 pounds to his 5-feet-11 frame since last year and handles his 192 pounds without any noticeable loss of speed or agility. He has a fine sense of balance, making him extremely hard to block off his feet, and an amazing capacity for sensing an opponent's play.

"He is just like a bird dog after a covey of quail," says line coach Ray Graves.

He has adapted himself to double-duty play quickly and threw a key block in Tech's lone scoring drive against SMU.

The retiring, untalkative Brooks is majoring in industrial management.

Notre Dame Club Holds Fall Meet

The Notre Dame Club of Atlanta will hold its first fall meeting tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

The dinner meeting, which starts at 6:30 p.m., will feature movies showing the highlights of Notre Dame's 1952 season and a talk by James W. Frick, president of the Notre Dame Foundation.

Dense Foliage During Hunting Season Protects Squirrels From Hunters' Guns

When you get off from work at 11 p. m. it's no fun to get up at 5 a. m. unless it's something pretty exciting.

And what in the first week in October is more exciting than squirrel hunting?

So, with my .22 and my wife's 28-gauge double, (I wasn't taking any chances on my eagle-eye) I sauntered to the riverside at a well-known hickory clump and sat down and waited.

Bill Allen

I don't know when I'll learn. Or, for that matter, when any of us hunters will learn that the squirrel is blessed by nature and those who make the hunting season dates.

That foliage is too thick every October and we know it, and I for one always miss the two weeks of good squirrel hunting between the time the leaves are mostly off, and when the squirrels disappear from the mast area having gathered enough food to last them three winters.

Anyway, it's one of the greatest games afield, to hunt the bushytail when the air is not quite frosty but almost so, and when he has so many leaves to hide behind, and so much food left on the limbs that flutter every time he breathes.

I looked for one barking, taunting, and bouncing around a hickory tower for a half hour, finally saw him and squeezed off a shot. Whether you admit it or not, it takes a lot of discipline to keep from snap shooting at the first game target of the year, be it squirrel, rabbit, quail or what-you please.

I didn't shoot at the target—excitement be blasted — but at the general area where ol' bushytail was jerking and switching around. I missed, of course, but finally got a couple and never had to resort to the scattergun!

The leaves have got to drop a little more before you'll get enough for a pot of squirrel supreme, but it won't be long. Don't wait too late, though. They don't like the exposure of bare trees any more than we like the thick foliage.

If you're in the Northeast Georgia mountain area, check in Ellijay (Gilmer County) and in Cleveland (White County), where they had the most phenomenal squirrel season in ages, last year.

Fourteen cases have been made in the past two days, and rangers have been doubled in the critical areas.

$60 MILLION THIS YEAR

State Minerals Said 'Barely Scratched'

By RICHARD ASHWORTH

Despite the fact that Georgia's income from mineral production will swell to nearly $60,000,000 this year, the state's geologists believe "we have barely scratched the surface" of potential mineral production.

Proper development and utilization of the state's minerals and introduction of new industries based on the state's raw minerals could raise the state's annual income from these resources several times, officials of the state Department of Mines, Mining and Geology have emphasized.

In an interview with The Constitution, Dr. A. S. Furcron, assistant state geologist, declared each discovery of a new use for minerals creates a use of minerals tomorrow "which today weren't worth a hoot."

POTENTIAL WEALTH

Dr. Furcron pointed out that because of the state's preoccupation with agriculture, "many land owners have spent a lifetime unmindful of the fact that their soil contained mineral wealth equal to if not greater than that obtainable from agriculture."

Thousands of dollars pour into the state yearly through production of the state's well-known minerals, such as kaolin, Georgia's largest money-getter in minerals, gold, granite, marble, bauxite and clay and concrete products, the geologist explained.

But untold thousands of dollars in new profits await the manufacturers and miners who would tap and take advantage of numerous little-known minerals in the state, uses for which are being dicovered almost every day, Dr. Furcron indicated.

DISCOVERY OF KYANITE

Only recently Dr. Furcron and other geologists discovered large deposits of minerals known as sillimanite and kyanite in several north Georgia counties. Kyanite was previously known only to exist in India.

Both of these minerals are regarded by Capt. Garland Peyton, head state geologist, as the basis of probable new manufacturing industries in Georgia, since they are essential ingredients in manufacture of superduty refractory furnace linings and special electrical porcelain.

Sixteen years ago, Dr. Furcron pointed out, geologists found and reported deposits of a mineral in northwest Georgia called tripoli, which is used in the manufacture of abrasives, scouring powders and soaps. "But nobody's doing anything about it," he added.

FLOATS IN WATER

And recently in Murray County geologists found a type of granite which, when heated, bloats and swells, becomes light, and will float on water. This would be useful in manufacture of lightweight aggregate for construction work, he explained.

New Georgia industries have sprung from new use for slate, a mineral which almost dropped from usage as a roofing material. A firm at Rockmart has set up kilns to heat and swell slate in the same manner as the newly-discovered granite for use in lightweight aggregates, and another firm at Fairmount grinds up slate into granules for use as a covering on roofing paper.

Many other of the state's little known minerals, such as pyrite, once used for manufacture of sulphur; lead and zinc, brown iron ores, manganese, flagstone, halloysite, lime and other resources are being studied and, or explored for possible commercial possibilities, Dr. Furcron reported.

Georgia's present mineral production is "heavy on the non-metal side," he explained. "We produce a lot of minerals which are not metals, for example, kaolin, heavy clays, granites and marbles."

Kaolin—the state's most important mineral resource—brings in about $21,000,000 yearly, Dr. Furcron said, and granite totals approximately $10,000,000 yearly. Third most important industry in the state are the talc mines and mills of Murray County. Much of this mineral is used in the roofing trade.

Minerals which are mined in Georgia, Dr. Furcron said, include asbestos, barytes, bauxite, Portland cement, clay, coal, feldspar, Fuller's earth, gold, granite, gypsum, iron ore, kyanite, lime, limestone, marble, mica, ocher, peat, sand and gravel, slate, miscellaneous stone, talc, silica and clay and concrete products.

State Patrol at Hinesville Alerted for Any Violence

By JACK NELSON

The State Patrol at Hinesville has been alerted to stand by for service in the event trouble develops in Liberty County, The Constitution learned last night.

A state capitol source said the patrol has been ordered to answer any calls of violence in the troubled area.

Several members of the Liberty County grand jury that charged Sheriff Paul Sikes with failure to enforce liquor laws have reported attempts to intimidate them. After yesterday's postponement of Sikes' hearing because of the sheriff's reported illness, the jurors emphasized they believed their lives are in danger.

ARMY REACTION

A star witness in the Sikes case, Brig. Gen. Richard W. Mayo, commander of Camp Stewart, was obviously displeased that yesterday's hearing had to be postponed.

He said he thought it was "too bad that the sheriff was not able to attend the hearing." He said he hopes the sheriff will be able to attend the rescheduled hearing on Oct. 28 "so a fair presentation of the facts can be made to the governor."

Gen. Mayo ignited the vice investigation in Liberty County a month ago with blistering charges that state laws regarding liquor sales, gambling devices and prostitution were being flagrantly violated.

GENERAL'S PLEDGE

The general, who came to Atlanta Monday immediately after returning to Camp Stewart from a 10-day leave in Washington, said he doesn't know the present "situation" in Liberty County. But he said that if he finds establishments carrying on operations that are "detrimental to the health, welfare and morals of the soldiers, I will place them off limits to military personnel."

He said "there is always the possibility of placing the entire county off limits if the situation is bad enough."

Camp Stewart, by far Liberty County's biggest payroll, has put 14 establishments in the county off limits.

THREAT REPORTED

The general was asked by a reporter if the vice investigation has hindered cooperative work between Stewart officials and county law-enforcement agents in county police cases involving military personnel. He replied:

"As I have reported before, the sheriff tried to intimidate me on two different occasions before the investigation began. On July 28 he told my provost marshal, Maj. A. J. Carey, that a delegation was going to Washington to see what they could do about me. He said the delegation was going to Senators Russell and George.

General Mayo said it is inconvenient for him and the eight other Camp Stewart witnesses to make a second trip to Atlanta for the sheriff's hearing, but he added:

"If I can help clean up that place, I'm willing to come back several times."

GUN PERMITS

Two cases concerning the vice investigation and involving an Atlanta reporter and a Liberty County deputy sheriff have been continued from Oct. 12 until the January term of the Hinesville City Court.

City Court Judge Paul Caswell, Sikes' brother-in-law, revealed the cases have been continued. He made the statement about the cases in the House chambers following yesterday's hearing.

An official from Hinesville told a reporter at the State Capitol yesterday that a number of Liberty Countians have obtained gun-carrying permits and are armed as a matter of protection. He said he would be armed after he returned to the county.

Tension has gripped the county since the grand jury's presentments were made on Oct. 23.

TELEVISION PLAYS FEATURE HOLLYWOOD STARS IN DRAMA, MYSTERY AND COMEDY

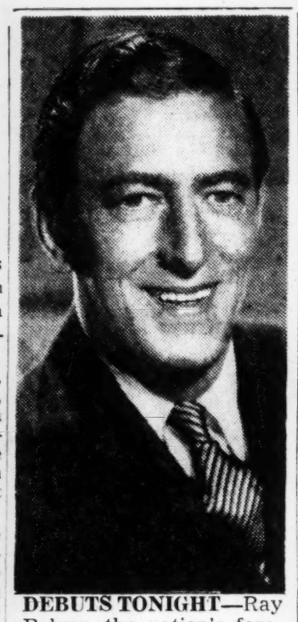
By PAUL JONES

A lineup of Hollywood stars which reads like a Who's Who in Movieland will be featured in a galaxy of dramatic shows on television tonight.

Stars such as Ray Milland, Charles Boyer, Paulette Goddard, Nina Foch, Ruth Hussey, Barbara Lawrence, June Vincent and Richard Denning will appear before the cameras in the shows which have established Thursday night as "play night" on video.

Boyer will be featured in the sympathetic role of a shell-shocked victim who comes home only to find he has been accused of homicide. He learns that he has been "framed" by his family in the tense drama which unfolds on WAGA-television beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Lovely Miss Goddard turns receptionist to prove that her boss, a young doctor who specializes in "heart" ailments, can't cure his own romantic complications. This comedy-drama is scheduled on WSB-TV's Ford Theater at 9:30 p.m. Richard Denning and June Vincent will be featured.



DEBUTS TONIGHT—Ray Bolger, the nation's foremost dancing satirist, bounces himself out of another hilarious mishap in the new musical comedy series "Where's Raymond?" which has its premiere telecast on WLW-A beginning at 8:30 p. m. Allyn Joslyn and Betty Lynn will be seen in supporting parts.

Television-Radio Highlights

DRAMA

Paulette Goddard plays the role of a psychiatrist's receptionist, determined to prove that her boss is the physician who cannot heal himself in "The Doctor's Downfall" on the Ford Theater.—Channel 2 at 9:30 p.m.

Charles Boyer plays the part of a shell-shocked victim who returns to his home town and is accused of homicide in "A Place of His Own" on Four Star Playhouse.—Channel 5 at 8:30 p.m.

Ruth Hussey and Barbara Lawrence costar in "The Moon for Linda," the story of how a smash opening night results in a bitter climax for a selfish young actress on Lux Video Theater.—Channel 5 at 9 p.m.

SPECIAL EVENTS

March of Medicine, presenting Progress Report No. 1, will show how doctors are combating mankind's top killer—heart disease.—Channel 2 at 10:00 p.m.

VARIETY

Arnall Guest on TV Show Honoring Newnan Druggist

Former Georgia Gov. Ellis Arnall was surprise guest last night when Dr. John Robinston Cates, 82-year-old Newnan druggist, was subject of "This Is Your Life," network telivion show originating in Los Angeles.

Arnall, who worked for Dr. Cates as soda clerk and delivery boy from 1918-21, said that although the druggist had lived most of his life right in Newnan he "knows more about how to live than most anyone I know."

Dr. Cates was praised by emcee Ralph Edwards as a druggist who has never refused credit to a sick family and one who "carried so many people on the books during the depression he couldn't pay his own bills."

Other "surprise" guests flown to California to appear on the show included Mrs. Eva Arnold Cates, wife of the druggist; his daughters, Lucia of Columbus, and Laura of Gadsden, Ala.; his son, John R. Cates Jr., New York psychiatrist, and three grandchildren.

'Dragnet' Parody Sensation on Disc

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 — Sensation of showbusiness, this week, is a two-sided bit of superior tomfoolery, Stan Freberg's parody of Jack Webb's "Dragnet" for Capitol Records. One side is "St. George and the Dragon-net" as Webb might have performed the sleuthing and slaying role of St. George. On the other side is Freberg's conception of how Webb solved the case of "Little Blue Riding Hood."

He changed the title, Freberg says, to prevent an investigation of a Riding Hood who admittedly was red. Coming on the heels of Capitol's "Vaya con Dios," which sold over 1,000,000 records for Les Paul and Mary Ford in nine weeks, the staffers of Capitol are beaming.

The Freberg record sold 400,000 in the first four days after going into the music shops.

To reconcile this apparently unbelievable number of sales, it's interesting to examine the sales technique of the recording industry. Two weeks before music shops get the new records, salesmen of the major record manufacturers visit the music shops and let them hear the records.

In addition, and here's the important plus, the salesmen rush the special semi-flex "white labels" to disc jockeys, perhaps 10 days in advance.

The disc jockeys are the determining factor. Their "exposure" of a record is reflected immediately in advance orders. Once the orders start pouring in to the music shops, the branch managers wire Bob Stearns, at the Scranton, Pa., Capitol plant and he starts rushing 'em to market on planes, trains and trucks.

Kidnaped Bobby Found Slain After $600,000 Is Paid; Couple Seized

when the body was found it had been wasted almost to a skeleton.

It was disclosed that first contact by the Greenlease kidnapers was made in a letter a few hours after the boy was taken. The letter, addressed to Robert C. Greenlease, was intercepted at the main postoffice by authorities.

DEMANDS CASH

The letter demanded $600,000 in currency of $10 and $20 denominations. Instructions were to place the money in an Army duffle bag. Greenlease then was to tie a white cloth on the antenna of his car radio and drive 10 blocks along Main street, from 29th to 39th street.

When the money had been assembled, the letter continued, Greenlease was to insert a classified advertisement in the Kansas City Star: "C. Will meet you in Chicago Sunday. G."

The kidnaper reportedly contacted the family by telephone almost daily. Before the ad was to be inserted, the instructions were changed to make the first letter read "M" instead of "C."

In a subsequent letter, there was enclosed a small Maltese cross medallion that Bobby had worn to school on the day he was taken. The family recognized it as their son's.

BIG PACKAGE

The bulky package of money, assembled by the Commerce Trust Co., was ready by last Wednesday night. Then the kidnaper stalled. Not until late last Saturday night were final definite instructions given for the contact.

The parents or their representatives were to toss the duffle bag over a bridge rail at a so-far-unidentified spot between Kansas City and St. Louis. Robert Ledterman and Norbert O'Neill, business partners of Greenlease, said they made contact and followed instructions at 12:05 a. m. Monday.

A condition of the negotiations was a specification that Greenlease would be notified by telegraph by 11 a.m. Monday where Bobby could be located.

The telegram never came.

In their cells in St. Louis Jail, Hall and Mrs. Heady told their version of what happened to the boy.

Mrs. Heady, widow of an Oklahoma bank robber who was killed years ago by a posse, took Bobby from the French Institute in Kansas City by posing as his aunt and telling nuns there the boy's mother had just had a heart attack.

The woman told police that Hall, with whom she had been living in St. Joseph, hoaxed her into the abduction by telling her that Bobby was actually his son and that the Greenleases wouldn't let him see the boy. The woman protested she did not know it was a kidnaping for money until she read it in the newspapers and did not know Bobby was dead until today.

Hall said that after the kidnapping he turned Bobby over to Marsh in a Kansas City parking lot and Marsh took the boy to St. Joseph, 50 miles to the north.

WOMAN SHOPS

When he and Mrs. Heady arrived in St. Joseph, the woman went shopping, he said, and he went to the house. There, he said, he found Bobby's body with three bullet wounds. He dug a three-foot grave in the back yard and buried the boy.

When Mrs. Heady returned, she complained about his digging up her back yard and he replied that he just wanted to plant some flowers, he said. They bought some plants and Hall put them in the soil above his tiny victim, he said.

They drank heavily while they waited, made the contacts and tested the Gleenleases' willingness to pay, the pair related.

Last Sunday night they drove again to Kansas City, received the ransom money and drove to St. Louis, across the state, they said, where they moved into a rented house on Arsenal street. They began drinking wildly again and quarreled, they said. Mrs. Heady, in jail today, had cuts and bruises on her face.

On Monday night, the drink-crazed Hall said he "wanted a woman," the kidnapers said, and drove with a suitcase of money to a tourist court across town where he spent the night with a prostitute, identified as Sandra O'Day. She later was picked up in Kansas City, and was being held as a material witness.

When he awoke Tuesday, he told police, he found the woman had gone and taken some $300,-00? of the cash.

Hall then went to a hotel with the remainder of the money and began spending it wildly, he said. A cab driver tipped Lt. Joseph Shoulders of the St. Louis police force and the officer and Patrolman Edward Dolan went to the hotel where he found Hall—and $293,972 in cash.

Hall confessed. He told police where to find Mrs. Heady and he told the FBI where Bobby's body could be found.

This morning it was taken from the neat little grave, behind a trim white bungalow, on a tree-lined residential street in St. Joseph, as police held back hundreds of townspeople.

Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Cole said Bobby had been dead at least "four or five days."

DISCOVER GUN

In Hall's hotel room, officers found a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver. It was sent to ballistics experts for tests to see whether it was the weapon which killed Bobby.

When the news of the arrest of the abductors and the discovery of Bobby's body broke, it was a stunning blow to the parents and friends who had stood by them.

Hall had known Paul Greenlease, adopted son of the family, at the execlusive Kemper Military Academy in Missouri. That school-days acquaintance gave him the idea of extorting money from the millionaire, he said.

The records show that Hall in his youth had inherited and dissipated most of a $200,000 fortune and was described by a judge who sentenced him as a man who wanted a lot of money without working.

Only last April he had been paroled from the Missouri State Penitentiary. He had been sentenced to five years for robbery.

Mother's Phone Pleas Vain, Got No Word From Bobby

tonight in an exclusive interview with a reporter for the Kansas City Star these and other trying moments in the family's efforts to pay the ransom and get the child back safely.

Ledterman told Franklin Riley Jr. of the Star that Mrs. Greenlease had asked the kidnaper to ask her son two questions and relay the answers to her as proof the brown-eyed boy was all right.

The cagey kidnaper told her he would try but the answers never came. He phoned later to report the boy "would not cooperate" and he could not get the answers to the questions.

The mother had asked for the name of the "driver of our car in Europe last summer" and "what did you (Bobby) build in your playroom the last night you were home."

The real reason the answers did not come was that Bobby was dead. —murdered by his abductors.

CALLED OFTEN

In his interview with Riley, Ledterman said the kidnaper called often and showed no fear of detection because of the calls. They were all local calls, and some lasted as long as 10 minutes.

"I talked to him every day," Ledterman said.

Two unsuccessful attempts were made to pass the money to the kidnapers before it was thrown over a bridge in eastern Jackson County Sunday night. The next time the kidnaper phoned to say he had the money. Ledterman said the instructions were hopeless on the first attempt.

TOSSED OUT OF CAR

On the second attempt, Ledterman said, the money was tossed out of the car at the specified point but the abductor phoned a little later to say he hadn't received it. He told Ledterman, who had been accompanied by another business associate, Norbert O'Neil, to return and pick up the big, 85-pound package of money.

When the ransom finally was paid and the abductor acknowledged it, Ledterman told him angrily over the phone:

"I would like to meet you some day."

"You never will," was the answer.

After this exchange, the caller told Ledterman to go to Pittsburg, Kan., and a message would be sent there Monday morning telling him where to go to find the child.

Buzzing Suit Case Creates Bomb Scare

BALTIMORE, Oct. 7—(AP)—A buzzing sound suddenly started coming from a battered suit case left 10 months ago in the checkroom at a downtown hotel and touched off a bomb scare today.

Army ordnance experts took the suit case to nearby Ft. Meade, opened it carefully, and found a practice telegraph instrument buzzing merrily inside.

4 Are Sentenced As Members of Numbers Racket

Four persons, including a 72-year-old retired railroad employe, were sentenced in criminal court Tuesday as members of a numbers racket gang.

Judge Charles G. Bruce pronounced sentences on two who pleaded guilty as "writers." They are Arthur Scott, Negro, 72, of 353 Cain St., NE, who drew a 12-month suspended sentence, and Willie Mae Jones, 38, Negro, of 199 Little St., SE, who was sentenced to serve four months.

Scott, a retired railroad man, said he was supporting an invalid wife.

Judge Luther Alverson found two others guilty as "pickup men" after police said they were caught disposing of $500 in lottery tickets.

He sentenced each to 12 months. They are Eugene Williams, 22, Negro, 578 Gray St., NE, and John Wesley Bailey, 29, Negro, of 659 Simpson St., SW.

Small Boats Role In Emergency To Be Discussed

The part that small boats will play if the Southeast is attacked by an enemy or hit by a natural disaster will be discussed at a meeting here on Oct. 14.

The meeting to be held at 9 a.m. in room 503 of the old Post Office bldg. is being sponsored by the Federal Civil Defense Administration, U.S. Coast Guard and U.S. Corps of Engineers.

Special emphasis will be placed on formulating a program to enlist the aid of private boat owners in an emergency.

OCTOBER IS NATIONAL RESTAURANT MONTH

Treat the family to a night out

Treat your family by eating out once a week during October, National Restaurant Month. Atlanta has a variety of restaurants to suit any taste. You'll find real Southern cooking—or French, Italian or Chinese style food—and many delicatessens that are a gourmet's delight!

Eating out is wonderful fun. The children will enjoy ordering just like grown-ups, and think what it means to Mother who plans so many meals throughout the year. In the pleasant atmosphere of Atlanta's fine restaurants you'll find the kind of hospitality that makes the South famous. Whether you order a hamburger or a Maine lobster, you're sure to get a meal that pleases.

Many of Atlanta's restaurants and cafeterias are among the finest in the nation. So take the family out during Restaurant Month. You'll enjoy it, and the family is sure to love it!

The chances are that wherever you dine your food will be cooked with Gas—for practically every restaurant in the Atlanta area uses Gas as the main cooking fuel. The same instant heat, perfectly controllable down to a simmer—the same cleanliness and ease of use that Gas provides for home cooking also makes restaurant owners ardent fans of Gas cooking.

Where food is finest... it's cooked with GAS!

SUCCEEDS INDIA—WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—Mrs. Katie Louchheim of Washington, pictured here at a news conference, yesterday succeeded Mrs. India Edwards as director of women's activities of the Democratic National Committee. Mrs. Edwards, who resigned, will now serve as vice-chairman of the committee.

French Urge 5-Power Talk On Far Eastern Issue

New York Times News Service, Special to The Atlanta Constitution

PARIS, Oct. 7—The French cabinet decided today to urge a five-power conference such as the Soviet Union proposed in its note of Sept. 29. The conference, which the French would confine to Far Eastern questions, would include representatives of Communist China, the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France.

It was expected that the French would propose that the Western Powers suggest such a conference in replying to the Soviet note.

The French government was actuated chiefly by its desire to miss no opportunity of a negotiated settlement of the war in Indochina. It believed the latest Soviet note offered such an opportunity in mentioning a five-power conference bringing in Communist China as well as a four-power conference on Germany.

It was reported today that government officials were studying a plan to expand trade between France and the Soviet part of Europe by reducing official restrictions and granting official aid to exporters.

In a speech in San Francisco yesterday, Antoine Pinay, former French premier, urged the United States to reduce tariff barriers and warned that if trade in the Atlantic area did not expand, European nations would be obliged to seek markets among the Soviet satellites.

Much enthusiasm was evoked here and beyond official quarters by Sir Winston's suggestion last May for a conference "on the highest level."

Dad in Tiny Town Given Problem Of Staying Away From Wife, Son

WOKING, England, Oct. 7—(AP)—Henry T. Beaver agreed today to heed a court injunction ordering him to stay away from his wife and son but then posed this puzzler:

"Woking is a very small place and if I happen to see my boy, whom I love and who loves me, it puts me in a very awkward predicament. Could any man pass his own child in the street without speaking to him?"

Ruled the judge: "If you meet your wife and child by accident in the street you can say 'Good morning' and 'Good afternoon' and pass on but there must be nothing more than that."

The ruling was made in connection with Mrs. Elsie

John Stevens, in 1809, was the first man to operate a steamboat in the open ocean.

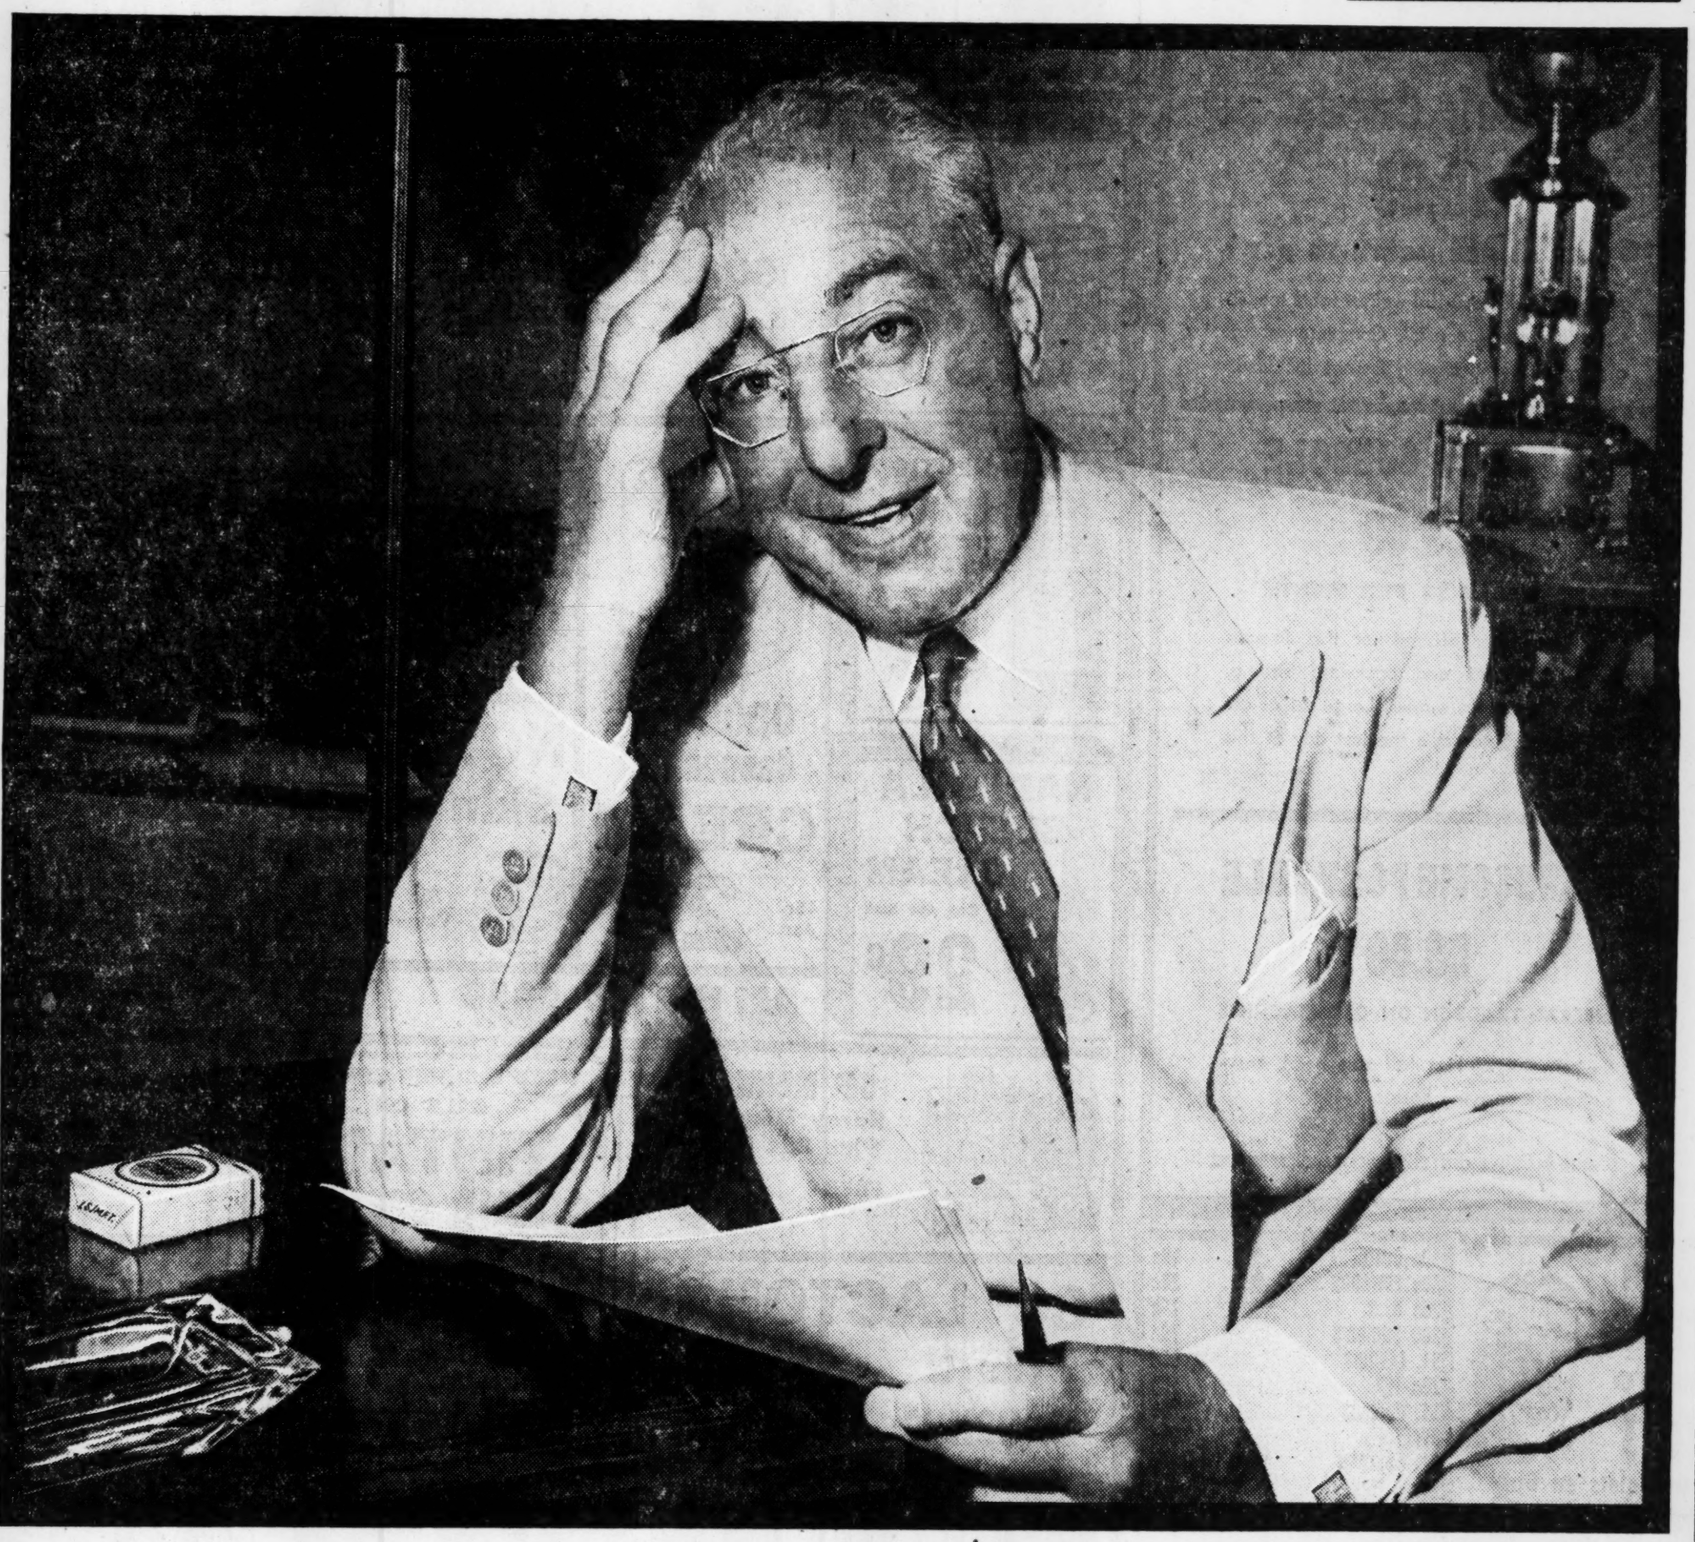
IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE



"MY BRAND OF FOOTBALL AND CIGARETTES"

LOU LITTLE

Famous Football Coach

I haven't smoked as much as a great many people, perhaps because being a football coach I try to teach young men the wisdom of being temperate in all things and so have observed that rule myself.

But it's true that after a hectic session on the field, to name one of the times I like to smoke, I find relaxation in a cigarette. I smoke Lucky Strikes and have for years. Mrs. Little smokes her own brand, which isn't so bad, except that it hasn't much taste in my opinion. To my way of thinking, Luckies taste much better.

I know it's a matter of taste, like the kind of football a man happens to prefer. The football I like is the football of keen strategy, the varied offense, the attack which can strike quickly, deftly, without warning, at any point in the defense. That kind of offense, manned by well-trained, perfectly conditioned players, makes our game of American football one of the most thrilling sports there is for the spectator who watches, as well as for the men who do the actual playing.

At least, that's my brand of football. Like Luckies are my brand of cigarettes.

A little about Luckies

We hope that like Lou Little you're a Lucky smoker. If not, perhaps you will be once you've tried Luckies. You see, smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better—cleaner, fresher, smoother.

There are two reasons. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Fine, light, naturally mild tobacco that receives expert care, inspection and attention from the time we buy it right up till the moment it's firmly packed into your Lucky.

Second, Luckies are made better—a fact you can recognize yourself as soon as you open a pack.

So, why not enjoy Luckies' better taste? Be Happy—Go Lucky. Remember, Luckies are made by The American Tobacco Company, America's leading manufacturer of cigarettes.

COPR., THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER CLEANER, FRESHER, SMOOTHER!

Banker Held In Theft of $113,500

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 7 (AP)—Federal agents arrested Don R. Simpson, gray-haired director of the Citizens National Bank of New Market, Va., in a raid on a Tampa motor court today and seized part of the $113,500 taken from the bank two weeks ago.

Charles Raymond Simpson, 21-year-old nephew of the banker, also was arrested.

The two men were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Paul Pinkerton, who set bond at $100,000 for the elder Simpson and $50,000 for his nephew. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for Friday.

Don Simpson and Theodore R. Beahm, vice president and cashier of the bank and former mayor of New Market, have been charged with entering the bank after closing hours Sept. 26 and taking $34,500 in currency and $79,000 in negotiable instruments from the vaults.

The nephew is charged with aiding and abetting the theft.

Beahm, who left New Market with the Simpsons, returned there last Wednesday. At first, he reported that Don Simpson had forced him at gunpoint to raid the bank, but the FBI said he admitted later that the money was taken under a preconceived plan.

Edward J. Powers, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said the Simpsons were carrying $10,820 in a cheap cardboard suitcase when they were arrested.

The 65-year-old Simpson said he and the younger Simpson had used "money of our own" in the two-week flight that took them to Canada, then to Florida, and had not spent any of the bank's money.

Hoover-Led List Asks No China Seat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—A bipartisan group, including former President Hoover, is circulating a petition among prominent Americans urging President Eisenhower to continue firm opposition to Red China's admission to the United Nations, it was disclosed today.

Rep. Walter H. Judd (R.-Minn.), one of the sponsors, said the petition bearing possibly 900 to 1,000 signatures will be presented to the White House within two weeks.

The Eisenhower administration already has expressed its opposition to U.N. membership for Red China at this time. Both houses of Congress also unanimously went on record earlier this year with a similar declaration.

Since then, however, the Korean truce has been signed and some U.N. members are exerting new pressures to admit Red China. The Communists are expected to use this demand as a bargaining point in further Korean negotiations.

The petition has been mailed to prominent persons in all walks of life with a letter signed by Hoover, Judd, and five other sponsors asking that it be signed and returned as soon as possible.

Clark Back; Tags Reds Murderers

Planning Book On Experiences

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Oct. 7 (AP)—Gen. Clark, former commander of U. S. and U.N. forces in the Far East, returned to the United States today and said Communists are "a bunch of cheaters and murderers" wherever you find them.

Clark arrived here at 8:28 p.m. en route to Washington and eventual retirement after 40 years of Army service. He was accompanied by his wife.

In a brief press conference at headquarters, Clark said he was considering writing a book on his 10 years of experience with Communists in Europe and the Orient.

He said he might entitle his book "From the Danube to the Yalu" and then asked his interviewer: "How do you like that title?"

Clark said he and Mrs. Clark planned to spend two days in San Francisco before continuing to Washington for his formal retirement.

Clark said he was not interested in running for mayor of San Francisco as rumored recently.

"The only thing I am going to run for is cover," he said.

He added he had received a number of "interesting offers" of employment but said he was not at liberty to discuss them at this time. He admitted, however, that some of the offers included "educational positions."

EXECUTION SET—COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 7—The Ohio Supreme Court today turned down the appeal of Mrs. Dovie Blanche Dean, 54, and set her execution date for Nov. 6. Mrs. Dean was convicted of poisoning her husband.

Education Board Session Tuesday

The Atlanta Board of Education will hold its October meeting at 3 p.m. Tuesday at City Hall, Charles C. Rife, board president, announced. Rife said board committees will hold a preliminary session at 7:30 p.m. Monday. He said only "routine matters" were scheduled to go before the board.

Wife Quitting Legless Hero; 'Floored Me'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 7. (AP)—The pretty wife of a legless Marine hero said today that she is going to divorce him. Mrs. Eddie Vidal charged that Vidal, who gets around in a wheelchair, knocked her down.

Vidal, a 22-year-old corporal, was wounded in both legs when he was captured in the Korean war. Communist surgeons amputated them crudely.

Mrs. Vidal, 19, left him Saturday and took their two children to the home of her mother, Mrs. Ignacio Barrientes.

They had been living in a new cottage, partly built by public subscription.

Mrs. Vidal charged Vidal knocked her down Saturday night.

"He may accuse me of running around while he was away, but I didn't," she said. "The fact is, I was down to 97 pounds worrying about him.

"I've had enough of Eddie. He mistreated me before he joined the Marines and went to Korea. I should have left him before now. I didn't because people would think I was doing it because he is now crippled.

"It's not the first time Eddie has beaten me, but it's the last," she said. "I'm through."

4-H BISCUIT BAKERS SIFT OFF TO A SPEEDY START

Versatile 4-H Girls Mix a Light Biscuit

By AGNES McCARTY

No one can bake biscuits like a man's mother until his daughter learns to cook.

Six regional contestants, demonstrating their talents for turning out light biscuit and fine-textured bread in the 4-H club baking contest held at the Atlanta Gas Light Co. kitchen yesterday, agreed that in every case dad preferred their hot bread to mother's.

Contestants included Ann Marshall of Lizella representing Bibb County; Patricia Boyd of Chestatee, representing Forsyth County; Julia Jeanette Shackleford of Alpharetta representing Fulton County; Martha Brantley of Wrightsville representing Johnson County; Frances Jean Merritt of Sparta representing Hancock County, and Clara Ann Bridges of Glenwood representing Wheeler County.

Frances Jean Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Merritt of Sparta, says she baked her first batch of biscuits at the age of four. "We have biscuits three times a day at our house—dad doesn't know how to eat without them." It takes the 18-year old Senior at Sparta High School about ten minutes to mix up a batch of quick bread. She plans to attend Abraham Baldwin Agricultural College to study for a career in dietetics.

Clara Ann Bridges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Bridges of Glenwood is a senior at Glenwood High School. Clara has five brothers and one sister. "The boys like Mom's cooking best and always make it a point to complain when I'm cooking. Mom never used a recipe for making biscuit until I started baking—now she follows mine." Eighteen-year old Martha plans to attend Martha Berry College to study home economics.

RESULTS "UNFORTUNATE"

Julia Jeanette Shackleford, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Shackleford of Alpharetta, baked her first biscuits when she was 13 — the results were "unfortunate."

Julia, a Junior at Milton High School, also likes to bake chocolate and coconut cakes. She prefers to stay away from pies since her mother and four sisters are pastry experts and the competition is too rough. The Alpharetta girl plans to study Journalism and Home Economics at Wesleyan.

Ann Marshall, 16-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Marshall of Lizella says she has already tried her biscuits on her fiance. "He always says they're the best he ever ate. I baked him a coconut cake on his brithday — guess he liked it because we plan to be married when I get out of school."

BEGAN BAKING AT 10

Patricia Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Boyd of near Gainesville began baking practice when she was 10. Now, at 16, with six years of 4-H work behind her, she mixes her biscuits in 10 minutes and they come out delicate and golden brown. Her first attempt produced "Hard, flat rocks."

Martha Brantley, 15-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Brantley of Wrightsville is speed champion of the six contestants. She mixes her dough in only three minutes. Martha, sophomore at Wrightsville High school shyly admits she is learning to bake coconut pie and chocolate cake to please her boy friend.

The bake-off is sponsored by Calumet who gives the winner a trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago on Nov. 29. The runner up receives a $100 scholarship to the college of her choice.

Winners will be announced at Congress headquarters in the Piedmont Hotel at 8 o'clock this morning. Judges were Dr. Jessie Nize of the University of Georgia Extension service and Miss Erna Proctor of Farmer's Home Administration.

PETROLEUM BEAUTIES

These local career girls employed in the oil industry pose in office outfits made from their product, petroleum. Their sweaters are nylon, a synthetic fiber made of petroleum and other chemicals. Their jewelry is plastic, containing oil. Even their make-up has a petroleum base. The foursome will appear in a fashion show and novelty program entitled "Oil in a Woman's World" at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the Tower Theater. There will be no admission charge. Bob Van Camp will emcee the show.

Iris Group Elects New Officers

Mrs. Drew Ferguson, of West Point is the newly elected president of the Georgia Iris Society.

Named with her at the meeting held at the Atlanta Public Library, were Miss Helen Estes, of Gainesville; Mrs. Binion E. Jordan and E. Fay Pearce, of Atlanta, vice presidents; Mrs. C. E. Buchanan, secretary; Mrs. T. H. Haskins of Macon, recording secretary; M. B. Butterfield, flower show chairman; Mrs. E. C. Lowery, treasurer, and Mrs. Gary Payne, historian.

Members of the society presented a piece of antique silver to Mrs. Robert H. Jones, the retiring president, and founder of the society.

TO THE VICTOR BELONGS THIS CHERRY PIE!

They Bake A Tasty Cherry Pie

By YOLANDE GWIN

A rosy cheeked girl from Hancock County who says she cooks because 'I like to eat" can bake a cherry pie that wins a prize.

Sylvia Hall, 16 year old 4-H Club member from Sparta, won over five contestants in the cherry pie baking contest which featured the second day's program of the eleventh annual Georgia 4-H Club congress now in session. It was held at the General Electric Supply Co. Miss Nell Boyd was in charge.

"I tried my hand at pie making at home one Saturday night, "she said." The pie came out all in one piece but the crust was a little too brown. The following Tuesday I baked another one and won the county contest."

"I think the family is getting a little tired of having cherry pie for all the desserts, but one of my sisters still likes it and so do I, so I keep on baking them."

The young Sparta High School student when asked her about her future plans said:

"I think I'd like to study speech and dramatics, and then maybe teach."

Other contestants were Joyce Crosby, Appling County; Dala Moon, Harris; Jackie Cheek, Banks; Mary Denton, Macon and Janie Martin, Irwin.

EVERYBODY'S A WINNER IN STATE 4-H DRESS REVUE
Clarise Sparks (Left), Nancy Henderson and Winifred Bowers

And They Sewed a Fine Seam With Ease

By DOTTY LUNDY

Only one of 18 contestants in the 4-H dress revue will pack her new home-stitched outfit aboard the Chicago special in November, but the girls aren't upset. For everybody wins in the clothing contest.

Biscuits, cherry pies and prize calves may go the way of all succulent Southern cooking, but the girls' Sunday bests will be around awhile.

MATERIAL COST $27

Senior 4-H'ers were allowed to select $27 worth of material last July from an Atlanta department store for their projects. Any fall outfit that flattered the young figure was acceptable—such as tweed suits, wool date dresses, fleece Eton jackets or poodle toppers.

Winners will be named at a banquet at the Biltmore Hotel tonight. The costume "off the girl" was inspected Tuesday. Not a dropped stitch nor a puckered seam escaped the judges.

Yesterday each 4-H'er modeled her garment. Besides fit of the dress, the girl was judged on her choice of accessories, grooming and poise. Miss Sara R. Talley, clothing specialist at the University of Georgia, was in charge, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Todd and Miss Mary Jane Bell. The girls are rated 40 per cent for their outfits, 60 per cent on their year's sewing record, Miss Talley explained.

Most contestants were old hands at thimble and thread. Nancy Henderson of Hampton, a high school senior, sewed doll clothes before she even started to school. She is entering a two-piece dress of green wool crepe.

Clarice Sparks of Commerce, who wore a frock of deep pink flannel with contrasting poodle cloth topper, alternates between sewing room and barnyard. She plans to show her jersey calf at Royston next week.

This is Winifred Bowers' third try for state honors. She led her district in sewing for four years, the first time as a junior contestant when she had to match plaids. Winifred is from Musella.

FUTURE DESIGNER

Frances Whitfield of Doerun wants to study dress designing at college. Superior stitching runs in her family, for sister Joan won the state dress revue three years ago. Hilda Barker of Lakeland isn't quite so ambitious. She mentioned she might rather become an air line stewardess, bemoaning the three weeks she spent on her dress of gray rayon faille.

A girl who shuns high school home economics courses also rates as an expert cook and once got to the state with her prize chickens. But Bessie Chamlee of Sparta forsook feathered finery for the feminine kind and is entering a beige tweed suit with velvet trim.

Harris School PTA To Meet Tomorrow

"Juvenile Delinquency, its Causes and Cures" will be discussed by a study group of Harris School PTA at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the school auditorium.

Mrs. J. F. Guest and Bill Allison will be discussion leaders. Mrs. L. R. Hughes is study group chairman.

Tricks, Will Power Can Whittle Waistline

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Whip out the tape measure and get a line on your waist. If this middle measurement is perfect for the size dress you wear, your figure will appear lithe and young.

This tip comes straight from the alteration department. The fitter has the last word and here is what she warns: give the waist an inch and it soon takes a larger size.

It might help you to know the exact waist measurement, that is, body measurements, used by dress manufacturers. Here they are: Size 10 is made for the woman with a 24½-inch waistline; size 12 for a 25½-inch waist; size 14 for a 27-inch waist; size 16 for a 28½-inch waist; and size 18 for a 30½-inch waist measurement.

Let's say you could slip into a 14 if it were not for the solid fact that your own waist measures 28 inches, which forces you into a size 16. The remedy is to slim 1¼ inches off. It really is easy once you get the knack of deleting the calories. Here are a few tricks to make it easier:

DRAW THE LINE

Start by drawing the line at all second helpings. Figure that the first helping is necessary for strength; the second helping will keep you from losing at the waist.

Eat the main course slowly. For some unaccountable reason with fast eating, calories go to waist faster. At the finish of the main course, draw your belt a notch tighter. Now a cup of hot tea or black coffee puts a satisfactory period to the meal. When you regard passing up dessert in the light of a leaner waist it's a pleasure.

Once you take the first step, the going is exciting. You simply follow through with a stretch and a side-bend. It is plain to see what this disciplinary action accomplishes. It pulls out this middle measurement ,and the side-bend makes the waist section limber—and slimmer.

STREAMLINERS

Position: Standing on knees, arms stretched overhead, holding wand.

Movement: Bend sidewards toward the right to touch end of wand to floor at right. Come back to position, bend to the left, touching wand to floor at left. Continue for six to 10 counts. No fair letting hips jut out rearward. Keep firm uppull on middle muscles.

Position: Standing feet wide apart, arms upstretched overhead, grasping wand.

LONELY ACTRESS
Atlanta's Martha Smith

Miss Smith Only Actress In Stage Hit

By JEAN ROONEY

Atlantan Martha Smith has it.

Taking the only feminine role in the Atlanta Civic Theater's "Mr. Roberts," Martha admits she couldn't have picked a nicer part.

She plays Lt. Ann Gerrard, a sought-after Navy nurse in the South Pacific in World War II.

And her Thursday, Friday and Saturday night appearances at the Community Playhouse will be her first starring role, the pretty native Atlantan reported at rehearsal yesterday.

Martha is used to the footlights, though, from backstage jobs with A.C.T. for several years and earlier school productions at old Commercial High and Hoke Smith High.

Her husband, Jim, is stage managing the production.

So seriously is the young actress taking her role, that she's changed from a brownette to a blonde for the show.

Miss Brooks, Mr. Kelly Are Married

CUTHBERT, Oct. 7 — Miss Martha Jane Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Brooks, was married to Raymond Milton Kelly of Hahira at the First Baptist Church here by the Rev. Richard Allmon. Mr. Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Kelly of Hahira.

The bride was attended by Miss Geneva Posey of Cordele, and Gerald Bailey of Valdosta was best man.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brooks entertained at luncheon at their home on Lumpkin street.

The bride was employed for the past year by the Lowndes County Board of Education and taught in the Hahira Elementary School.

Doctors, Families Adorn Social Ranks

Among latest additions to Atlanta's social ranks are a duo of young doctors and their families, Dr. and Mrs. James Ravenel Cain and their children, Claudia Vincent and James Ravenel Jr., and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Manchester.

The Cains, who are native Charlestonians, are residing at 898 Kings Court. Dr. Cain, a graduate of the Medical College of South Carolina, is assistant in pathology at Crawford Long Hospital. His attractive wife is the former Claudia Mengedoht, who is a graduate of the College of Charleston.

Dr. and Mrs. Manchester came to Atlanta from Baltimore. The former, an eye specialist associated with Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, was graduated from Vanderbilt and specialized in the eye at Johns Hopkins.

Mrs. Manchester is the former Margaret Whitham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitham of Baltimore, who are at present guests at the Manchester home on Inwood Circle, having come for their daughter's birthday celebration. Mrs. Manchester is a Smith College graduate.

When Atlanta's Mrs. Edward F. Daniel was a bride, she was a neighbor of Dr. and Mrs. Whitham in Baltimore. The latter was before her marriage Miss Alice Ridgely, whose ancestral home, Hampton, was featured in a recent issue of Holiday magazine.

MR. AND MRS. ENRICO LEIDE have taken a penthouse apartment at the Howell House and will take possession on Nov. 1. They have made their home at the Biltmore for the past 10 years.

MRS. WIMBERLY POOLE, who has been residing in Paris, France, since last February, sailed this week on the Queen Mary and will land in New York on Oct. 14. After a week there, she will visit her sister, Mrs. Guy Burns, in Charlotte, en route home. On her arrival here she will be the guest of her cousin, Mrs. R. E. House, on Rock Springs Road.

A NEW ADDRESS for Daniel Whitehead Hicky is the Ponce de Leon Apartments at 75 Ponce de Leon Ave. He moved last week from 28 Peachtree Pl.

'Seeing Atter' Uncle Bunch

COMER, Oct. 7—Things are no more settled in Comer than elsewhere in this restless world. In fact, judging from the bright signboards all over the Collier family's land you'd think this part of the world had broken loose from the rest and was about to fly off into space.

They're auctioning off the Collier farm Oct. 29.

For more than 100 years the wide fertile fields south of Comer have been in the same family. Old John V. Collier worked them with the aid of slaves before the Civil War. (It was his wife, Ole Miss, who thought to display a Masonic insignia when the Yankees came through and the Collier place was left unburned.)

But now Old Mister John's grandson, Ralph, is selling out. He and Miss Mattie Lee have decided to retire and move to Madison. They may even go to Europe—and they don't want 807 acres of land and 30 tenant families to worry about while they're gone.

So they're selling out but it's 807 acres they're selling and not 811.

Four of those acres are not changing hands right now. That much of the old home place—that little unpainted three-room cabin with the trees around it and the sallet patch beside it—is staying put.

For as long as they live it belongs to Uncle Bunch Simmons and his wife Easter.

Uncle Bunch was picking cotton when I stopped by to talk to him. He came up, small and quick and very black against the white harvest in the field behind him.

"Mister Ralph seeing atter me," he said. "Long as I live I got my house and my patch. If it be the other way, I see atter him."

"That's right," Ralph Collier, the former Georgia legislator, admitted, smiling. "When I needed him Uncle Bunch has always been there. If I'd be sick tonight Uncle Bunch's be up at my house sitting up with me. If he was sick I'd do the same for him."

"We provides for one another," Uncle Bunch said complacently. "I ain't much to work any more. I farms when the old boll weevil let me and I picks a little cotton but I ain't the hand I used to be. Makes me feel good to know I got a stay-place long as I live."

Uncle Bunch was born in Madison county, the son of slaves. His mother bound him out at an early age to Cap'n Washington Grimes, where he lived in the home and learned to be quick and smart and mannerly. He moved to the Collier place after he was grown and he's been there ever since. He's a deacon in the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church and he was feeling well settled until news of the auction got out.

That upset him and then he learned that for as long as he lives his cabin belongs to him and Easter. When they are gone it will revert to the newcomers who buy the big white verandahed house in the grove where the Colliers live.

"I sho be glad," Uncle Bunch said. "I like heah."

Style Show, Tea to Fete Homemakers

All Atlanta homemakers will be honor guests at a free fashion show and program of music and singing at 10 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the Tower Theater.

"Oil in a Woman's World" will be the theme with the Oil Industry Information Committee of the American Petroleum Institute sponsoring the admission-free show.

Local radio personalities Bob Van Camp and Helen Parris, will act as emcees. Alice Bell will commentate the fashion show. A program feature will be a "Magic Barrel" act demonstrating the chemical processes of making synthetic fabrics from petroleum.

Junior Woman's Club To Sponsor Party

Junior Atlanta Woman's Club members will sponsor a canasta-bridge party at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the Atlanta YWCA. Mrs. A. B. Reddick and Mrs. W. C. Washburn are chairmen.

Reservations are open to the public and may be made by calling Mrs. P. B. Lester, EXchange 1247.

Inman Park Club

Inman Park Woman's Club will have a morning coffee at 10:15 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 15,

Your Stars Today

DAILY GUIDE—This is a time for rehashing many of the events or decisions made recently, so if you get a little muddled today, you can blame it on the stars! Some irritating changes may take place in the morning's schedule, and the noon hour may be a bit foggy mentally, but by mid-afternoon a happier note creeps in and by the dinner hour a much smoother atmosphere can be hoped for to carry into the evening.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, LIBRA! Today should be a high point with you in a year of complications and experiments. It might mark decisions which could raise you to greater honor or responsibility.

Chicago Conference

Editors Feted Lumberjack Style

By JEANNE HIGGINS
Constitution Food Editor

CHICAGO, Oct. 7—Logs and lanterns decorated the tables today as members of the annual newspaper food editors conference in session here this week, were summoned by Armour Meat Packers to a "Lumber Camp Breakfast." It was appealing enough to induce an appetite like a woodsman's and hearty enough to more than satisfy it.

Since, more than ever before, we are realizing that "a better day begins with a better breakfast," Armour took this opportunity to emphasize the importance of protein foods, meats and eggs, to make your breakfast adequate.

French Whip Pastry, used for making Neapolitans or dainty filled pastry desserts, was introduced yesterday. The new, easily achieved flaky pastry method was originated in the kitchens of Lever Brothers, using the company's homogenized vegetable shortening. The shortening, liquid and egg yolks are fork-whipped into the creamy-gold "French-Whip" which is the key step in making the sweet pastry. Flour, sugar, and salt are sifted onto the whip to form a smooth soft dough which is rolled and cut into petite shapes to be baked to a bright honey-gold color.

Neopolitans are really delicious. This is how they're made:

MINIATURE PASTRIES IN FANCIFUL VARIETY
Tangy Lemon Filling in "French Whip" Pastry

"FRENCH-WHIP" PASTRY
¾ cup homogenized shortening
3 tablespoons boiling water
1 tablespoon milk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 egg yolks, unbeaten
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

Put shortening in medium-sized mixing bowl. Add boiling water, milk, and lemon juice and break up shortening with fork. Tilt bowl and with rapid cross-the-bowl strokes, whip with fork until all liquod is absorbed and mixture holds soft peaks when fork is lifted.

Add egg yolks and beat until well blended. Sift flour, sugar, and salt onto the creamy-gold "French - Whip." Stir quickly with round - the - bowl strokes into a dough that clings together and "cleans" the bowl. Pick up and work into a smooth dough; shape into a flat round.

Use for making Neapolitans. Makes enough pastry for 12 rectangular Neapolitans, 3"x1½", or 20 round Neopolitans 2" in diameter.

NEAPOLITANS SUZETTE
1 Recipe "French-Whip" Pastry
Milk
Sugar
Blanched almonds, thinly sliced
1 recipe Lemon Cream Filling

Divide pastry dough in half and shape into 2 oblongs. Roll each oblong separately on floured cloth or board or between 2 pieces of waxed paper about 15" long. Roll dough into a rectangle about 6" x 12" and ⅛" thick.

Peel off top paper and, with pastry wheel or sharp knife, cut into rectangles, 3" and 1½". Remove carefully from paper and place on ungreased baking sheet . . . . Prick with fork . . . . Bake in hot oven (400 F.) 10-15 minutes, or until pastry is honey-gold in color with light brown edges.

Remove from sheets to wire racks and let cool. Repeat with other half of dough, brushing 12 rectangles with milk, sprinkling with sugar, and scattering almond slices generously over tops. In all, there should be 24 plain rectangles and 12 with sugar-almond tops. Spread a layer of Lemon Cream Filling on the plain rectangles, then put together in pairs. Place an almond-topped rectangle on top of each . . . Makes 12 Neapolitans.

Swanson's new frozen turkey pies were served yesterday to the culinary journalists at C. A. Swanson and Son's christening party for their new addition to the poultry family. The tantalizing turkey pie needs only to be popped into the oven until browned and heated throughout and, like the nation's food editors, you'll thoroughly enjoy the flaky pastry, chunks of turkey, fresh green peas and rich brown gravy ready prepared for you.

The historic importance of bread as man's "staff of life" was dramatized last evening for the conference members gathered in the Gold Coast Room of the Drake Hotel. Titled "a loaf of bread" the reading, given by guest Marshall Kent with full orchestral accompaniment, was especially prepared and dedicated to the newspaper food editors at the dinner given by the General Baking Company.

George L. Morrison, president of the company, unable to attend, had his speech read stressing the vital role of bread in human nutrition today.

"I even like 'em raw," were the words of Louisiana's Governor Robert F. Kennon on behalf of his state's famous golden yams in addressing the conference yesterday.

The ample nutritive value of the sweet potato was pointed out as well as the flavorful goodness of the product after years of extensive research striving towards perfection of the Louisiana yam to meet standards set by the American homemaker for nutritional value, strong appetite appeal, variety in methods of preparation, year round availability and moderate cost.

Assemblies Elect New Officers

Miss Marquin Conklin was elected president of The Assemblies at the meeting held at the Piedmont Driving Club, and 40 Atlanta girls were invited to become members of the organization.

Officers selected to serve with Miss Conklin, who succeeds Miss Alice Wight as president, were Miss Virginia Dunlap, vice president; Miss Ellen McDonald, secretary, and Mrs. William Gailmard, treasurer.

The Assemblies' annual holiday dance was set for Wednesday, Dec. 23, at the Piedmont Driving Club, the details to be announced later.

The new members include Misses Martha Banks, Dittie Bennett, Carol Cherry, Joanne Church, Virginia Cooper, Lucy Crane, Betty Davison, Margaret Davison, Jeanne Delaney, Zanier Downs, Lamar Ellis, Margaret Evins, Dot Floyd, Betty Ann Floyd, Margaret Gammage, June Green, Shirley Haddock, Sandra Hardin, Julie Hartramph, Rosie Hartramph, Jean Higgins, Laura Hoppe, Anne Jackson, Jane Johnson, Dot Laird, Gladys Lamb, Lee Ann Lehr, Betsy Marsh, Jane Martin, Trudie Martin, Louise Murphy, Lucy Oswald, Jan Perdue, Frances Porcher, Martha Rand, Pat Riley, Nancy Ann Tatum, Julia Taylor, Joyce Thomas and Shirley Vickers.

In addition to Miss Wight, the retiring officers are Mrs. John Beach, vice president, and Miss Alice Wilson, treasurer. Miss Conklin served as secretary last year.

Mrs. Lois Camp Is Married to William H. Addy

The marriage of Mrs. Lois Camp of Griffin and Senoia to William H. Addy of Senoia took place in Griffin at the Methodist District parsonage, with the Rev. Hoke Sewell officiating.

Only the two families and a few close friends witnessed the ceremony. After a wedding trip through the mountains of north Georgia and North Carolina, the couple will reside in Senoia where Mr. Addy is associated in business with C. P. Daniel and Sons.

Mrs. J. W. Poole to Entertain Zeta Tau Alpha Alumnae

Mrs. J. W. Poole will entertain the Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae of Atlanta at tea on Sunday at her home at 1099 Briarcliff Rd. in celebration of the 55th birthday of the sorority. The first chapter of ZTA was installed at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., in October, 1898.

Mrs. Fred A. Hoyt, president of the Atlanta Alumnae group, will receive with Mrs. Poole when Zetas from all over this area will gather for the observance.

Zeta Tau Alpha was honored recently by the initiation of Jane Pickens, a Georgia woman who has devoted her life and special talents to the aid and relief of crippled children. For several years the sorority has aided the National Foundation for the Relief of Cerebral Palsy.

Assisting Mrs. Poole in entertaining on Sunday will be Miss Martha Miles, a Zeta and a graduate of Randolph-Macon. Miss Miles is president of the business group of ZTA Alumnae.

Agnes Scott Alumnae Plan Fashion Show

A career girl fashion show will be a feature of a meeting of the Agnes Scott Junior Alumnae Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Alumnae House.

Mrs. B. B. Cheek will be commentator.

MARY HAWORTH

European Girl Encounters Frustration in First Love

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I came here from Hungary two years ago. I am a school girl, 17, but feel much older. Lately I am having boy trouble and I hope you will help me.

I had many boy friends, but never could love any of them until I met John four months ago. He is 20 and goes to college. He works during the summer and is quite busy. He seldom calls me and I feel very depressed. He says he likes me and I know he does. I realized not long ago that I am in love with him; I cannot enjoy the company of other boys any more.

John's mother knows my mother well. In fact, they were friends at one time, but she is is a very peculiar person, difficult with everyone. She is jealous of my mother and me for no reason, and she doesn't want John to see me often, as she is afraid we will fall in love. She always tells my mother that he has no money to spend on girls; and that he has many girl friends.

How can I make him call me more often? I think the whole thing is his mother's fault and I don't know how to act toward her. I am going down in my school work and cannot afford to lose everything for love.—D. Y.

DEAR D. Y.: Evidently John's mother is a "mom," meaning a matron who darkly distrusts any person's influence in the life of her son that might seem to rival or overlap her own. Apparently she has a jealous compulsion to choose his love partner for him, when the time is right, in her opinion. And, no doubt, her idea of the suitable girl (if any) would by a sweet, pliable nonentity type, a creature who will be a murmuring echo of Mom's wishes for John.

The healthy male around age 20 usually is powerfully interested in girls, and restlessly drawn to their company in leisure left over from work, study or other routine discipline. Thus one infers a lack of sorts in John's makeup, if he pays you no heed most of the time, although admitting a bond of mutual attraction

Assuming that his mother's jealous possessive bias is the negative force that chiefly blocks your yen to know him better, still the problem can't be solved in terms of trying to disarm or outwit her. In bidding for John's attention, you are frustrated by the weakness of character, the irresolute spirit, the evasive temperament that his dominant mother has fostered in him. In short, it is the lad himself who vaguely shuts the door in your face.

A boy his age, tied to his mother's leading strings, isn't a legitimate candidate for sweetheart love. He isn't geared for responsible interchange. His character lacks the mainspring of self-reliance. My advice is this—since you can't change mother and son, don't waste energy pursuing them in thought. Your stymied status signifies that they can't figure in your fulfillment.—M. H.

How to make bleached, tinted hair silky soft

BY CAROL DOUGLAS

If bleaches and tints have given your hair a dried-out, lifeless look, you will want to start using Tame right away. Tame is a remarkable invisible hairdressing. You don't spray it on. You don't smear it on. You rinse it on!

The rinsing carries this beneficial hairdressing to every hair. It covers each strand completely and evenly with a delicate, transparent solution that's like nature's own oils. Yet, Tame will never make your hair greasy, sticky, or stiff. Tame gives over-bleached, tinted hair a glamorous, new, silky softness. It will be easier to curl and ever so much easier to manage.

See for yourself how Tame counteracts the lifeless, straw-like effect that bleaches and tints often give. Get a bottle of Tame at your favorite toiletries counter in 30c, 60c, or $1.00 sizes plus Fed. tax. As soon as you start to use Tame you will discover a pleasing difference in the feeling and texture of your hair. That's our promise to you. Do try it.

Jessie's Notebook

BY JESSIE DE BOTH

Pineapple's My Pin-Up—its shining golden fruit, canned tropic-fresh, makes the salads I put on my table gay and glamorous, and Pineapple surely has nature's most refreshing flavor. A tossed green salad with rich, juicy Pineapple Chunks is delectable! And when I use Pineapple Slices in a gelatine mold . . . there's a salad unsurpassed for color, design and flavor. Pineapple deserves extra space in your pantry! Its 5 convenient forms—canned Slices, Chunks, Tidbits, Crushed and Juice—each plays a part in perking up meals and providing health-giving vitamins and minerals. And folks like Pineapple Juice so much I serve it between meals from breakfast to bedtime.

I Answer Promptly "get Clorox" when housewives ask me how to make bathroom and kitchen floors sanitary. I know that a simple mop-up with the Clorox solution I give below, makes floors more than surface-clean, insures added health protection—fast.

Just add 1 cup Clorox to each gallon of water. Spread on cleaned floors with mop. Keep wet 5 minutes. Rinse. Dry.

Incidentally, this procedure helps to whiten, deodorize and disinfect your mop, too!

I especially hope that brand-new housekeepers discover Clorox early for it's the most efficient germ-killer of its kind . . . and non-poisonous, too! In my experience Clorox is the best household disinfectant for all kitchen and bathroom surfaces—drainboard, sink, shower, tub, wash basin—floors. And, Clorox removes stains and deodorizes as well as disinfects.

Get Clorox today and read the label for complete directions. The Clorox-way is the easy way to make household surfaces safer for family health.

The Smartest Thing you can do is use Kitchen Bouquet to make gravy brown and delicious every time. Pan-browning alone can fail, you know, but Kitchen Bouquet's special blend of 14 vegetables, herbs and spices is sure to brown that good meaty juice in your pan and bring out its natural meat taste every time. So easy! No wonder good cooks have used Kitchen Bouquet for over 75 years.

The Kitchen Bouquet way of low temperature cooking is the ideal way to roast meat, too. Brush meat with Kitchen Bouquet before cooking in low-heat oven to get more servings, juicier meat with a deep-brown crackly crust. See directions in every Kitchen Bouquet package.

YOUR YOUNGSTERS GROWING UP

—and up? Then do let them have all the Carnation "Malts" they can put away. Carnation Malted Milk is just what active, growing young folks need . . . both Carnation Chocolate and Natural-flavor "Malts" are delicious inducements to drink milk. And the extra minerals and important vitamins in a Carnation malted drink make it almost twice as good as plain milk. So easy-made, children love to fix their own. No work for mother. No strain on the budget. A 1-lb. jar of Carnation Malted Milk gives you 20 generous servings, each at about 2¢.

Carnation "Malts" are good for active mothers, too. Get your jar today.

"I Love To See Folks enjoy themselves heartily at my table whenever I serve 'em Libby's Vienna Sausage", writes Mrs. Burt C. Schwarz of Mobile, Alabama. "And thanks to your grand variety of Libby's 'Viennas' recipes I serve them often to the special joy of my friends!"

I'm thrilled, too, that Libby's tender little open-end sausages, with their old-fashioned, rich smoky flavor help you to please all your friends, Mrs. Schwarz. Fortunately, Libby's Vienna Sausage is all meat and made of the leaner beef and pork, rich in protein. A permitted delight for reducers—as on this easy

COMPANY GRILL:

Place Libby's "Viennas" in a shallow pan side by side with Mushroom Caps and either Tomato or Pineapple Slices, dabbed with bits of butter or not, as you please. Slip under broiler—serve broiling hot.

What Do You Do when you get a headache, neuritis, or neuralgia? Break engagements? Instead . . . go to any drug store—get Anacin® tablets. Anacin gives such incredibly fast, long-lasting relief from pain, the way physicians and dentists recommend—you can keep that important date. You see, Anacin is like a doctor's prescription; that is, Anacin contains not just one but a combination of medically proven, active ingredients. Yes, and it's easy to take. EDUCATION OFFICIAL. Dr. Lawrence Derthick, president of the American Association of School Administrators, yesterday told white and Negro teachers of the Georgia Education Association here that what their students think of them is more important than what school officials think. Dr. Derthick was in Atlanta to address a meeting of more than 2,000 school teachers at the Baptist Tabernacle.

Read Fine Print in Home Pact, Lawyers Say

Atlantans can save themselves a lot of legal difficulties by reading the proverbial "fine print" of contracts when buying, leasing or selling a home, three Atlanta lawyers declared last night.

During a lawyers' forum on "Your Home, the Law And You," second of a series, attorneys E. D. Smith, Arthur L. Martin and Pope M. McIntire pointed out persons should not only read any contract before they sign it but should also understand its provisions.

Smith, president of the Lawyers' Club of Atlanta and moderator at last night's forum, told the audience at the Life Insurance Co. of Georgia auditorium, "Fine print on the back of the contract is just as binding as the bold letters on the front."

McIntire, explaining the point further, said, "Courts have held that if you can read—and didn't read—you are still liable for what the paper says."

More arguments, lawsuits and troubles result, he went on, because "the seller thinks he is selling one thing, and the buyer thinks he is getting another entirely different thing."

He reiterated, "Be sure you read anything you put your name on."

THIS LADY IS BACK FROM AFRICA

There are wild gorillas in "MOGAMBO"—in fact it's the first time these frightening creatures have ever been photographed. When you're not seeing the excitement of these unusual scenes in Africa you will be concerned with the triangle that centers around Clark Gable. Ava's performance is witty and, need we say it, seductive.

Lumber Industry Slumps As Home Building Eases

Southern Pine Prices Decline, Inventories Increase 10 Pct.

By JIM MONTGOMERY

The Southeast's second most important industry—lumber—is in a slump, apparently resulting from a decline in residential construction and a slight drop in furniture sales.

This was disclosed yesterday in the monthly review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. The report showed that manufacturing as a whole has forged on to new heights in recent months in the Sixth Federal Reserve District, but that lumber has fallen behind.

Although Southern pine production in the first seven months of 1953 rose 4 per cent over a year ago, there has been no subsequent change in the volume of shipments, the report said. The net result—a piling up of inventories at an increasing rate. By July the physical volume was 10 per cent greater than a year ago.

Meanwhile, lumber employment has dropped persistently since 1951.

DEMANDS VARY

The report noted that the demand for lumber is dependent upon the demand for those products in which lumber is used and that estimates show three-fourths of the nation's total lumber output goes into construction of homes, railroad cars, flooring and millwork. Housing alone takes a third of the total, while furniture and fixtures absorb some 5 per cent.

Significantly, the report noted that in the Sixth District, residential construction contracts awarded during the first eight months of this year were off 14 per cent from 1952. During the same period, district furniture store sales skidded 5 per cent.

These declines have been reflected in the lumber industry.

"Since these two factors of our economy are not likely to show much improvement in the near future," the Federal Reserve Bank said, "they will continue to exert a depressive effect upon the district lumber industry."

PINE PRICES FALL

Unfilled orders for Southern pine in July fell below those of July, 1952, the report said. Accordingly, the price of Southern pine has fallen steadily. But the price has not declined nearly as fast or as sharply as employment in the lumber and wood products industry.

Some two-thirds of the lumber output in the district's six states consists of hardwoods, over 90 per cent of which is Southern pine. Thus, what happens to Southern pine is generally representative of the entire lumber industry in the Southeast.

Lumber sales throughout the rest of the nation, however, offer a striking contrast to the Southeast. The country's lumber sales for the same period are running well ahead of production, the report said, with the gap between inventories and sales narrowing noticeably.

Business In Brief

For the third time in four years, the annual report of the Citizens and Southern National Bank has been named one of the top three annual reports of 4,900 national banks in the U.S. The only Southern bank to receive a top award this year, the C&S was named third in the annual report contest sponsored by Financial World, national business publication. In previous years, the C&S report has ranked first and second among national banks, and has received a merit award in the last four years.

HELLER OPENS OFFICE

The rapid and continuing expansion of Southern industry was given as the reason yesterday when Walter E. Heller & Co., Inc., commercial financiers of Chicago and New York, announced the opening of a branch office in Atlanta. Located in the Grant Building, the new office will be headed by Thomas E. Neal, who has been appointed regional manager. A native of Atlanta and a graduate of the University of Georgia, Neal has been vice president of a local financial concern and was at one time district sales manager of Dun & Bradstreet.

TRAINING COURSE

J. H. Moore of Atlanta's Jacobs Pharmacy Co., Inc., is in Rochester, N.Y., this week attending a retail photographic salesmen's training conference at the Eastman Kodak Co.'s sales training center. The group consists of 26 men and women from 13 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

SALES DIP

Net sales of Sterchi Bros. Stores, Inc., for the first seven months of the fiscal year were $8,897,861 as compared with $9,721,273 last year, reflecting a decrease of 8.47 per cent. Sales for the month of September, amounting to $1,050,230, were down 15.65 per cent as compared with the $1,245,054 sold during the same month in 1952.

TUCKER, WOOD HONORED

Roy M. Wood of Tucker and A. L. Cook of Savannah have been honored by the White Provision Co. of Atlanta because of their outstanding sales record during past past year. They led all of the company's salesmen in the Atlanta and Savannah areas, respectively. They and their wives will receive an all-expense trip to Chicago and a week of entertainment as guests of the White Provision Co. during the week of Oct. 11.

FLARSHEIM TO SPEAK

Henry Flarsheim, vice president and sales management specialist of Bozell & Jacobs, Inc., national advertising and public relations agency, will speak to the Sales Executive Club of Atlanta tomorrow on "How a Sales Manager Can Make More Money." H. J. Wilson, head of the advertising and merchandising department of the Georgia Power Co., is program chairman.

SERVICE AWARDS

The following Atlanta Division employes of Cullom & Ghertner Co., Nashville and Atlanta, received five-year service pin awards at a special banquet given recently in their honor: Alfred L. Fargason, Mrs. Lottie Jane Phillips, Earl J. Appling, Mrs. Nora Sue McDonald, Joseph Waggoner, O. C. Morris, Mrs. Florence Soule, John H. Rogers Jr., C. K. Holt and W. C. Arnold.

SPORTS COUPE AMONG FEATURES OF DODGE'S NEW V-8 SERIES

New Styling, Engineering Advancements Highlight 1954 Model Cars

Dodge Shows Royal V-8 in '54 Opening

Unveiling of a new super de luxe series known as the Royal V-8 will be the highlight of the 1954 Dodge passenger car line when it is introduced in dealers' showrooms here and across the nation today.

Now in its 40th year, Dodge will introduce completely new interior styling, more than a dozen body beautifications and several major engineering advancements in its entire line of 20 different models.

In three series . . . the new Royal V-8, the Coronet V-8 and Six and the Meadowbrook V-8 and Six . . . the new models are being offered in 11 new body colors and 14 two-tone combinations keyed to harmonize with the completely new interior styling.

The 1954 Dodgs also offers such mechanical advancements as the economy-and-endurance tested Red Ram V-8 engine stepped up to 150 h.p. and a 7.5 to 1 compression ratio; PowerFlite, a new fully-automatic transmission and a new full-time power steering unit.

Meadowbrook V-8 models will continue at 140 h.p. The horsepower of the six-cylinder engines has been raised to 110 and the compression ratio to 7.25 to 1.

Dodge dealers in the Atlanta area are Lander Motors, Inc., 25 North Ave., NE; Callaway Motors, Inc., 231 W. Ponce de Leon Ave., Decatur, and Westbrook Motors in East Point.

National Ads For August Up 11 Pct. From '52

National advertising volume in August was 11 per cent higher than in August of 1952 and 7 per cent below July, 1953, according to Printers Ink, a weekly magazine of advertising.

The dip from the previous month, the publication points out, should not be taken as an indication of a decline in advertising volume as it followed a contra-seasonal gain of 6 per cent in July over June. Ordinarily, volume shows little change from month to month during the summer.

In August, the business-paper medium was the only one to show a gain over the previous month, an increase of 3 per cent lifting that index to a new high. All media except weekly and farm magazines showed gains over 1952.

New Car Listings In August Show 502,430 Units

DETROIT, Oct. 7—(AP)—New car registrations in August numbered 502,430 units, R. L. Polk & Co. reported today.

Polk, auto industry statisticians, said the August figure compared with 533,783 units for July, and added:

"If September new car registrations hold close to the 500,000 mark the total for the third quarter should surpass 1,500,000 units and bring the year's total through September to upwards of 4,125,000. The total for all of 1953 should be around 5,500,000."

(Estimates of factory output for the year still remain at slightly under 6,125,000 cars.)

Wholesalers Gain 2 Pct. During Aug.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. — Wholesalers sold about 2 per cent more in August than in July, the Department of Commerce said today.

The monthly report on the wholesale trade estimated sales by middlemen in August at $8,800,000,000.

The report said wholesalers held inventories valued at $10,300,000,000 at the end of August, unchanged from July on a seasonally adjusted basis. An increase of $100,000,000 in durable good stocks offset a decline of the same size in non-durable goods inventories.

Sales by durable goods dealers during August were reported as $2,840,000,000 and by non-durable goods dealers as $5,920,000,000. Both durable and non-durable goods sales were up slightly from July.

Durable goods dealers' sales, seasonally adjusted, showed a 4 per cent increase in August in the machinery and metals line, a 3 per cent increase in hardware and 2 per cent increases each in the automobile and building materials groups. Sales of electrical goods and home furnishings were each down 4 per cent.

13 Georgians On U.S. C of C Committees

Thirteen Georgia business leaders have been named to fill committee appointments of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Nine Atlanta appointees and their committee assignments are Harllee Branch Jr., president of the Georgia Power Co., policy; Walter T. Cates, executive vice president of the Georgia State C. of C., state chamber advisory; Malon C. Courts of Courts & Co., finance; L. M. Dugger of the Coca-Cola Co., business statistics; Norman E. Elsas, board chairman of the Fulton Bag and Cotton Mills, government expenditures; Carlyle Fraser, board chairman of Genuine Parts Co., Canada-U.S. committee; Marshall B. Hall, president of the Trust Company of Georgia, finance; Joseph K. Heyman, vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia, business statistics, and Lee Price Jr. of the Coca-Cola Co., economic policy and education.

Other Georgia committee members are Walter A. Richards, Columbus, president of Tom Huston Peanut Co., national director and manufacture and taxation; W. M. Oettmeier, Fargo, president of Superior Pine Products Co., natural resources; Jesse D. Jewell, Gainesville, president of J. D. Jewell, Inc., national director, agricultural, domestic distribution and government expenditures, and Ray L. King, Valdosta, president and general manager of Georgia Fertilizer Co., agricultural.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce announced that each man was chosen because of special knowledge and experience with national problems. Each committee includes representatives from the various types of businesses concerned with the problems to be studied, representing various geographical areas.

'Copters To Carry Passengers in Florida

MONTREAL, Oct. 7 (AP)—National Airlines today said it plans to start scheduled passenger helicopter service in Florida perhaps by Jan. 1.

Charles F. Sharp, assistant vice president of sales, said the airline's first helicopter will be used in the Miami-Palm Beach-Key West area, and its second in the Tampa-St. Petersburg sector.

A third helicopter on order will be used in the Norfolk, Va., area.

National announced last week the purchase of three Sikorsky S55 12-place helicopters from the Sikorsky Aircraft Co.

Sharp said that in addition to a crew of two the helicopters will carry six to eight passengers. The aircraft will be soundproofed and fitted with comfortable seats.

Stocks Hit Best Levels In Recovery

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—a fast rally that spent itself within a relatively short time today boosted the stock market to around the best levels of the current recovery movement.

Buoyancy was apparent in some areas from the start—particularly aircrafts and motors—and in the fifth hour the railroads, steels, motors, aircrafts, oils and many individual stocks joined in a forward movement.

Cause for the sudden demand was not apparent immediately. The market is in an upward swing from the lows of the year reached in mid-September. Moderate declines were registered yesterday and the day before. Today's advances erased those losses and pointed the market ahead.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 90 cents and now stands at $103.70. The gain is the best in around two weeks and exactly equals the combined loss in the average Monday and Tuesday.

Both the industrial and railroad components of the average today were up $1.10 and the utilities were up 30 cents.

MARKETS NARROWER

The market was narrower than yesterday with 1,054 individual issues traded as compared with 1,085 yesterday. There were 577 gainers and 232 losers with 4 new highs and 31 new lows for the year recorded during the day.

Volume came to 1,010,000 shares as compared with 1,100,000 shares traded yesterday. The volume today on the rise and yesterday on the fall doesn't compare very favorably with the daily average so far this year of around 1,400,000 shares.

Hudson Motor was again the day's most active issue, up ¾ at 11⅞ with 23,700 shares traded. Demand yesterday and today for the stock was traced to reports of a possible merger with Nash-Kelvinator. Nash today was the 10th most active issue, up ⅝ at 18¼ with 9,000 shares traded.

Avco was in second place, up ¼ at 5¾. It has been active all week, today in blocks as large as 2,000 shares.

GREYHOUND TO EXPAND

Greyhound up ⅛ at 13⅛ was third. The company disclosed an expansion program through acquisition of other bus companies.

It was followed by Glenn L. Martin up ⅜ at 14¾, Du Pont up 1Z at 101, and Studebaker up ¾ at 22⅞.

Among other gainers were Celanese, New York Central, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, American Telephone, Republic Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, American Smelting, Standard Oil (N.J.), Texas Pacific Land Trust, Homestake Mining, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, National Distillers, Radio Corp., General Electric, and Union Carbide.

The American Stock Exchange was generally higher with trading amounting to 370,000 shares as compared with 320,000 shares traded yesterday.

Higher were Calvan Consolidated Oil, Canada Southern Oils, Electric Bond & Share, Imperial Oil, International Petroleum, New Jersey Zinc, and Coastal Caribbean Oils. Lower were Humble Oil and Woodley Petroleum.

Lint Futures Show Gains

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 20 to 45 cents a bale higher today in relatively quiet dealings. Trade and local buying again found hedge offerings light and was sufficient to keep the market on a steady course. Gains extended to almost $1 a bale, although late profit-taking pared part of the advance.

Most traders were inclined to await the government October cotton crop forecast to be issued on Thursday. Average ideas in the trade pointed to little change either way, compared with the September forecast of 15,159,000 bales.

Some steadiness was imparted to futures by the Department of Agriculture statement that it will make loans to farmers on cotton stored in the open where adequate warehouse facilities are not available.

This movement by Washington is designed to assist farmers, who would otherwise be forced to sell their cotton in the open market for lack of storage space, to make the cotton eligible for the loan. Cotton loans for the week ended Oct. 2 were 172,249 bales against 144,672 bales in the preceding week. The net stock of 1953 crop cotton in government hands on Oct. 2 was 562,610 bales. The net stock of 1952 crop cotton in government hands was 1,712,577 bales.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
STATE BRIDGE BUILDING AUTHORITY
BRIDGE REVENUE BONDS, SERIES A OF 1953

State Bridge Building Authority, a body corporate and politic and an instrumentality of the State of Georgia, will receive up to 11:00 o'clock a.m., E.S.T., on October 29, 1953 at its office in the State Highway Building, Atlanta, Georgia, and at such time and place will open and publicly consider sealed bids for the purchase of its Bridge Revenue Bonds, Series A of 1953, in the principal amount of $9,750,000.00, which bonds are dated July 1, 1953, denomination $1,000.00, numbered 1 to 9,750, inclusive are registerable as to principal, bear interest payable semi-annually on January 1st and July 1st of each year at a rate or rates not to exceed three and one-half per cent per annum, are payable at The Citizens and Southern National Bank in the City of Atlanta, Georgia, or, at the option of the holder, at Bank of The Manhattan Company in the City of New York, N.Y., are redeemable on July 1, 1959, and on any interest payment date thereafter, in inverse order of maturities and by lot within any maturity at par plus accrued interest, plus a premium of $30.00 per bond if redeemed on or prior to July 1, 1962, $20.00 per bond if redeemed thereafter on or prior to July 1, 1966, and $10.00 per bond if redeemed thereafter prior to maturity, and are payable in numerical order on July 1st in years and amounts as follows:

Year	Amount	Year	Amount
1954	$465,000	1962	$615,000
1955	480,000	1963	635,000
1956	500,000	1964	655,000
1957	520,000	1965	675,000
1958	540,000	1966	700,000
1959	550,000	1967	725,000
1960	575,000	1968	750,000
1961	590,000	1969	775,000

Each bidder may specify not more than four interest rates expressed in multiples of 1/10 or 1/4 of 1%, with not more than one rate for any one maturity, and the bonds will be awarded to the bidder offering to pay principal and accrued interest to date of delivery for bonds bearing interest rates which result in the lowest interest cost to maturity without regard to premium. Premiums will be taken into consideration only in the case of bids resulting in identical interest cost without the deduction of premium. Interest rates shall be so arranged as to effect a substantially level debt service plan over the life of the issue.

The bonds have been authorized pursuant to an Act of the General Assembly of Georgia approved March 25, 1953 (Ga. L. 1953, p. 626) being Act No. 495, and have been validated by decree of the Superior Court of Fulton County. The bonds have been authorized for the purpose of constructing:

(1) A bridge over the Satilla River on State Route 25 in Camden County at Woodbine;

(2) A bridge over the Altamaha River on State Route 64 at the Tattnall-Appling County line between Reidsville and Surrency;

(3) A bridge over the Wilmington River on State Route 17 in Chatham County at Thunderbolt;

(4) A bridge over the Oostanaula River between State Routes 1 and 20 in Floyd County and in Rome;

(5) A bridge over the Flint River on State Route 26 in Macon County between Oglethorpe and Montezuma;

(6) A bridge over the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, State Route 8, in DeKalb County at Tucker;

(7) A bridge over the Georgia Railroad, State Route 11, in Walton County at Social Circle;

(8) North approach spans of the bridge over Ocmulgee River, State Route 27, in Telfair County at Lumber City;

(9) Bridges over Morgan Lake and Forest Pond overflow area, Altamaha River, State Route 38, Long County, south of Ludowici;

(10) Bridges over McBean Creek and Brier Creek, State Route 56, Richmond and Burke Counties, between Augusta and Waynesboro;

(11) Bridges over Bulltown Creek, Duce Creek Canal, Peacock Creek, Salter's Creek, Midway Swamp, three unnamed creeks, Biddy Pond Creek, Jerico Creek, all on State Route 25, Liberty County;

(12) Bridge over Altamaha River, State Route 38, Wayne-Long County line, which bridges have been leased by the Authority to the Georgia State Highway Department under the terms of a lease requiring said Department to maintain and operate the bridges and to pay rentals therefor over the life of the bonds fully sufficient to pay principal and interest at maturity, and to carry out the other provisions of an indenture of trust entered into dated as of July 1, 1953 between the Authority and The Citizens and Southern National Bank of Atlanta, Georgia, for the security of the bonds.

Each bid for the purchase of the bonds shall be unqualified and shall be conditioned upon the approving legal opinion of Powell, Goldstein, Frazer & Murphy, of Atlanta, Georgia, and Chapman & Cutler, of Chicago, Illinois, which legal opinion together with a complete certified transcript of the proceedings, including a non-litigation certificate dated as of the date of delivery, will be supplied to the purchaser without cost to him.

Each bidder must submit with his bid a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $195,000.00 drawn to the order of State Bridge Building Authority as a guarantee of performance. The checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately after the opening of bids. The check of the successful bidder will be retained to guarantee performance and in the event of failure of such bidder to comply with the terms of his bid, will be cashed and the proceeds thereof accepted by the Authority as liquidated damages for such breach of performance. The Authority reserves the right to reject any or all bids without obligation.

Further information and details are obtainable upon application to the undersigned.

Cobb Couple Hurt Seriously As Car Smashes Into Train

A 17-year-old Smyrna youth and his girl companion were injured seriously last night when the car in which they were riding crashed into a Seaboard railroad passenger train at the Oakdale crossing near the river in Cobb County, according to Cobb police.

Winford Garland Oliver, 17, Route 1, Smyrna, an employe of the Metallic Casket Co., Received multiple abrasions and lacerations to the face and right side, police said. Faye Holtzclaw, 15, also of Route 1, Smyrna, received severe lacerations of the head, feet and legs and a chest injury.

After treatment at Grady Hospital, both were transferred to Crawford W. Long hospital.

Patrolmen said the auto driven by Oliver struck the side of the train at the crossing. The car was demolished.

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision at Broad and Mitchell Sts., SW, at 4:05 p.m., police said. They were identified as Glenn L. Austin, 45, of 1591 Stewart Ave., SW, a furniture company employe, and Bobby Wright, 24, of 1122 Rosedale Dr., NE. Both suffered lacerations and bruises.

Claude Woods, 14, of 184 Alice St., SW, received injuries to the right arm and back in an automotor bike collision at Pryor and Ramona Sts., SW, at 2:25 p.m. After being struck by a car at Bankhead and Ashby, NW, at 7 p.m. Robert Sloan Adams of Talladega, Ala., a railroad employe was treated at Grady for injuries to the head, shoulder and knee.

Said property owners or others interested are notified to appear before the regular meeting of the General Council on the 19th day of October, 1953, to make any and all objections they may desire to urge to the passage of said ordinance. At this time full opportunity will be given them, if they desire to use same, to make any and all objections they may desire to urge to the passage of said ordinance.

GIVEN under my hand and seal of office on this the 6th day of October, 1953.

J. L. RICHARDSON,
Clerk of Council.

NOTICE is hereby given to property owners on SKYLAND DRIVE, NE, of the introduction of an ordinance to pave same with pavement, as follows, to-wit: Special Bituminous—Baby Bond Paving Plan.

The owners of property along SKYLAND DRIVE, NE, between its intersection with Loridans Drive and Valley Green Drive, and others interested, are hereby notified that an ordinance has been introduced in the General Council of the City of Atlanta for the pavement of said portion of said street with pavement as follows: Special Bituminous—Baby Bond Paving Plan. The probable cost per front foot of said pavement is $4.07. Said property owners or others interested are notified to appear before the regular meeting of the General Council on the 19th day of October, 1953, to make any and all objections they may desire to urge to the passage of said ordinance. At this time full opportunity will be given them, if they desire to use same to make any and all objections they may desire to urge to the passage of said ordinance.

GIVEN under my hand and seal of office on this the 6th day of October, 1953.

J. L. RICHARDSON,
Clerk of Council.

I have made application to the City Council for a retail beer license at 15 Brady Ave., N.W. Hearing to be held next meeting.

Youth Jailed In Seizing Of Girl, 9

A 25-year-old electrician's helper of Rossville, released from the City Prison farm two days ago, yesterday was jailed in connection with an attempted assault on a 9-year-old College Park school girl, police said.

Police Chief T. Owen Smith of College Park identified the man as Edward Ashton.

Records in the Atlanta Police Department show Ashton completed a 15-day sentence at the farm Monday on charges of disorderly conduct-prowling.

Smith said Ashton seized one of three small girls who were following a path through a wooded section along Roosevelt Highway on their way from school. As he forced the child into the underbrush, Smith said, the two companions ran for help.

Several men working nearby ran to the scene and seized Ashton, Smith related. He said medical examination showed the girl was not injured.

A preliminary hearing for Ashton is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in College Park Recorder's Court.

Prayer May Aid Drunken Husband

By ROBERT B. GIFFEN

DEAR MR. GIFFEN: I have a drinking husband. What can I do to help him?—Mrs. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: This is a tough one.

I can tell you many things you can do which will harm him (nagging, over-protection, moralizing, martyrdom, etc.) but only three which will help, even a little.

1. Be emotionally honest toward him. If you love him, and your heart is tender toward him in his pain, do not hesitate to show it. He needs your love. If you hate his actions, if they are hurting you and your children, do not cover up your feelings for fear they will "make him worse." But in any event do not become party to his failure by protecting him from the results of his drinking.
2. Suggest, (but do not high pressure) Alcoholics Anonymous.
3. Pray for him, but do not let him know every time you do it. Go into your closet, and there from the bottom of your heart pray to God.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	Pass	2 no trump
Pass	4 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Ten of hearts.

It was well that South in today's hand had spots in his eyes. Close attention to the pips permitted him to bring home a contract which was lost by the declarer in the other room in a recent team of four match.

Both sides reached the contract of four spades on identical bidding, tho it seems to this observer that a final bid of three no trump, an invincible contract, was distinctly superior, and the fault, it seems to us, lies with North. His bid of two no trump was grossly inadequate. South's bid might have been based upon five spades to the ace-king and a side queen, in which case he would surely not have continued in the auction. The recommended call by North is three no trump, which it is our view South should pass.

West opened the ten of hearts, and dummy's jack went to East's king. The king of clubs was returned, and declarer permitted it to hold. East then shifted to a trump, and declarer drew them in two rounds. Up to this point, play had proceeded in exactly the same manner at both tables. Here a divergence took place. At table one, declarer considered that the only chance he had to win the hand was to play in the hope that East would have to win the third trick in diamonds, whereupon he would be forced to lead into dummy's club tenace or cash his ace of hearts and set up dummy's queen for the discard of a club.

Unfortunately for declarer, West overtook East's jack of diamonds with the queen and returned a club, putting an end to declarer's hopes.

At the other table, South, too, reached a contract of four spades but after the first four tricks, declarer did not fail to observe that he was blessed with very fortunate "spots" in the heart suit. The ten already had been led, and South realized that he could establish the six of hearts as a winner regardless of the location of the nine. Winning the second trump in dummy, he played the queen of hearts which East was compelled to cover. The seven and six of hearts were equal against the nine. Declarer thereupon entered dummy and led the seven of hearts, discarding a diamond. West won with the nine, but that was the last trick for the defense, for South's losing club was disposed of on dummy's six of hearts.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VanDELLEN

Coughing Is Laid To Ear Trouble

Coughing may result from any one of a dozen abnormalities in the respiratory tract, from the tip of the nose to the edge of the diaphragm. This does not include the nervous cough of psychological origin exemplified by the speaker who hacks several times before uttering his first word.

Reflex cough is another exception. In this condition, a disturbance elsewhere in the body is stimulating hacking.

Most nose and throat specialists have heard the tale of a patient who was sent to Arizona because no one was able to relieve his cough. After he arrived and settled down to desert living he consulted a local physician who removed wax from his ears.

The cough was cured promptly. Dr. Emily Van Loon recently told of a child whose cough vanished when a bean was extracted from the ear canal.

The adenoidal cough presents a more familiar picture. Most victims are children with a stuffy nose, enlarged tonsils and adenoids, and swollen neck glands. When the youngster lies down, the thick secretions from the nose flow back into the throat to set off the coughing reflex. Surgery is the answer to the problem.

But many adults are bothered in the same way except that there is dripping into the throat of secretions from the turbinates in the nose or the sinuses.

Allergy may be responsible. Wheezing may be absent but after contacting the irritant the individual develops a dry, unproductive cough.

Chronic cough also comes from lung conditions such as bronchitis, bronchiectasis, abscesses and cancer. Tuberculosis also is a posibility, as well as infections caused by molds and yeasts.

YOUR MIND'S MIRROR

By JOSEPH WHITNEY

Can falling in love change your personality?

Answer: Definitely. Every new, important human relationship should make some change in the way you think, act, feel and behave. This does not mean that you are not still the same person fundamentally, but only that you have been growing, and passing through one more stage of development. It is only the inflexible and overly-anxious person who resists the effects of new relationships and the demands placed on him in any new role, and such people rarely fall deeply in love.

Does a college education make people cynical?

Answer: No; usually just the reverse. Most young people pass through a stage of cynicism during their late teens or early twenties, whether they go to college or not. The educated person is more likely to cast off his cynicism because of his greater knowledge of human behavior. His familiarity with admirable characters in history and literature helps him overcome the tendency toward cynicism created by daily exploits of the highly publicized hoodlums of our generation.

Should a teen-ager account for his allowance?

Answer: No. It would be far better to work out with him a general plan of what his allowance is supposed to cover and then let him alone. One reason for an allowance is to give your youngster a sense of responsibility, and this value is destroyed if you make him account for every penny. If he is allowed to make his own mistakes, knowing that you realize we all occasionally miscalculate financial expenditures, he will be less likely to deceive you when this happens to him.

Grader Leases Imply Early Start on Industrial Tract

By DERICK DANIELS

Fulton County commission signed a $6,100-a-month lease yesterday for six pieces of grading equipment to start work on the 800-acre industial tract along the Chattahoochee River.

Public Works Director A. T. McDonald said joint work with the state on a road through the tract probably would begin within two weeks.

The board accepted a bid from Yancey Bros. Co. for the heavy equipment, after turning down bids for the grading by private contractors.

Special crews will be hired on an hourly basis to run the equipment, County Manager A. E. Fuller said.

Signing of the lease on the equipment culminated months of discussion, planning and negotiation with the state highway department over building a 3-mile stretch of road (Hwy. 74) to serve the project.

STATE-COUNTY PROJECT

The state has agreed to work with the county on the road. It will run from Gordon Rd. to Cascade Rd., through the tract.

Fuller said that after the road is ready, the grading machines will start work preparing sites for industrial plants.

Two railroads, the Southern and Atlantic Coast Line, have applications pending with the Interstate Commerce Commission for permits to run tracks into the industrial area, which county officials feel will eventually provide millions of dollars in pay rolls for Fulton County.

Commission plans to sell sites outright to industries after the land is prepared.

CONCRETE FOR BYPASS

Commission also agreed to put up $9,000 to use concrete on a 660-foot stretch of the West Bypass after McDonald reported use of asphalt might delay completion of the road at the Peters Street Underpass from Nov. 1 to June 1.

In other action, the board:

1. Heard a request from two Superior Court judges for prompt action on proposed raises for court reporters.

2. Received notice that former county police chief G. Neal Ellis is buying half interest in the Peach Liquor Store, Roosevelt Hwy., from Mrs. Pauline Lyon.

3. Accepted the resignation of Walter R. Thomas as a member of the board of welfare. Thomas has been appointed to the Fulton-DeKalb Hospital Authority.

4. Referred to the manager a proposal by Police Chief Herbert Jenkins to increase by $66 a month the county's payment for police protection in order to raise two lieutenants to the rank of captain. They are Cal Cates and Hugh Duncan, who direct protection of the unincorporated areas.

5. Agreed to grade and pave a playground for the child welfare center, Oak Hill Homes, on Stewart Avenue. Entire cost, estimated at $6,000, will be borne by the board of welfare.

5 Slot Cases Heard Here In Law Test

Five more slot machine condemnation cases were heard here yesterday by the U.S. Fifth District Circuit Court of Appeals.

The appeals were brought to determine how broadly the federal law requiring slot machine dealers to register can be applied, a question already pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The federal government contends that the law requires all slot machine dealers to register—even those doing business within one state.

But U.S. District Judge A. B. Conger of Macon held that only dealers who operate in interstate commerce must register. He ruled that the government has no right to condemn machines which have not moved across state lines since Jan. 2, effective date of the registration law.

The government appealed this ruling to the Court of Appeals, but Judges Joseph C. Hutcheson, Robert L. Russell and Richard T. Rives are expected to withhold their decision until the U.S. Supreme Court decides similar cases now before it.

NLRB Asks Writ in Building Boycott Row

The National Labor Relations Board yesterday asked for an injunction against two Atlanta labor organizations which are charged with trying to enforce a secondary boycott against the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co.

The NLRB asked that U. S. Dist. Judge Frank A. Hooper enjoin Local 193 of the AFL Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers and the AFL's Painters District Council No. 38 from picketing the West Peachtree-Fourth St. site where the Equitable Life Assurance building is being erected.

The local union is a member of the council.

The injunction sought would be a temporary one, to last until the NLRB rules on Pittsburgh's charge that the labor organizations are bringing pressure on the Beers Construction Co., contractors for the project, to discontinue using Pittsburgh products in the building.

A hearing on the injunction petition has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Oct. 13 before Judge Hooper.

Pittsburgh and the local union have been engaged in a wage scale dispute since Aug. 31. Ten to 20 union members walked out of the company's Memorial drive plant in protest on Sept. 1.

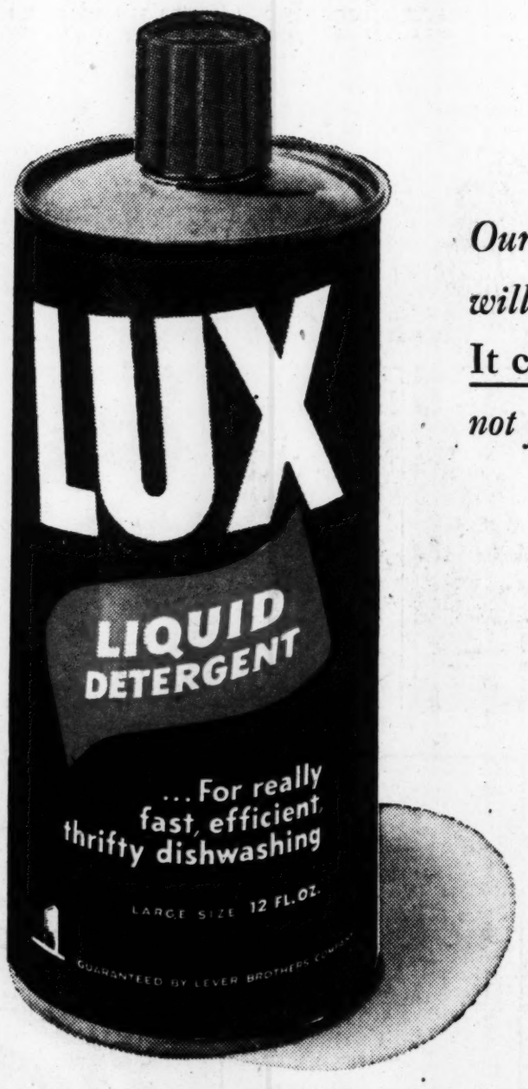
A week's dishwashing is a bigger job than the weekly laundry. (It's around a thousand cooking and eating utensils for a family of four.) Like your weekly laundry, dishwashing deserves a special something that will make it less of a chore—and yet not harm your hands.

NEW this can in your kitchen is the next best thing to a dishwashing machine



Packed in a can as it should be—with a dripless spout

Won't break like a bottle. Won't get soggy or take up room like a box. And the dripless spout keeps the liquid from dripping down the side of the can.

Our laboratories found that one canful of this new Lux Liquid Detergent will wash more dishes than several boxes of the most popular laundry powder.
It cleans so well and costs so little because it's designed for dishwashing... not for getting out the entirely different kind of grease and dirt in soiled overalls.
—And it's almost as mild on your hands as Lux Toilet Soap.

YEARS AGO, we asked our laboratories to develop a product especially for dishwashing. Something that would be as superior for dishes as Lux Flakes care is for stockings.

Now, it's no small order to come up with something as good as a product that lets you double the wear of your nylons. But we think you'll agree Lux Liquid Detergent is that good for dishes.

It gets dishes clean like nothing else does by literally soaking them clean. It cuts away the grease. Gets between the clinging grease and the dish. Dissolves the grease.

Incidentally, and here's a test you can try yourself, this new Lux Liquid Detergent is so determined to get dishes clean under any circumstances it will even make suds in ice water.

For fast, efficient dishwashings—with or without wiping—no powder can touch it.

As for mildness—the quality that's so much in demand in practically anything—we can truthfully say it's almost as mild as Lux Toilet Soap—and that's going some. Lux Liquid Detergent is mild.

And for what it does, Lux Liquid Detergent costs less than ANY leading soap or detergent.

A few drops wash a whole dishpan-full of dishes. A couple of trials will show you how little you have to use.

It smells good too, and it dissolves instantly because it's already dissolved. In short, it's pleasant and thrifty to use, it does the job well without a lot of fuss, and it's easy on your hands. For these virtues it's unequaled by any other product.

This new Lux Liquid Detergent naturally has a Lever Brothers guarantee. You can have your money back if you don't think it's the greatest little helper with the dishes that ever came along—but we honestly believe you'll love it.

LEVER BROTHERS

Remember—it's LUX LIQUID for dishes, LUX FLAKES for nylons. You can double the life of your nylons if you give them LUX FLAKES care instead of harsh washday treatment in washday suds. If you want to, you can prove to yourself how gentle LUX FLAKES care saves stockings. Get two new pairs. Wash one pair with any washday product. Wash the other pair the LUX way—in pure, gentle LUX FLAKES. Do this for several weeks—and you'll see the difference LUX FLAKES care makes.
